AAUW Book Sale Plans in Making

For the 22nd consecutive year the Birmingham branch of the AAUW will be holding its annual book sale this fall. Solicitations and collections have been under way for several weeks, although the actual date set for the sale is the week of October 17. Again for the sixth time, the group will be using the lobby of the Detroit Edison building on Merrill street. Books of all types, fiction, non-fiction, text, research, children's and detective will be accepted. Other material such as monthly magazines (no weeklies), patterns, records, sheet music, toys, games, pictures and playing cards from either complete or incomplete decks will be used in the sale.

Mrs. Jessie W. Eakins, general chairman of the project, has suggested that summer housecleaning or moving may bring to light a great many books or salable items. Anyone wishing to have collections made now or at any time during the summer may contact Mrs. Carl E. Marx, Mrs. Alice Farnie or Mrs. Edward McManus.
