

Mrs. Eiling Plans To Reopen Little Folks Shop Tuesday

Mrs. Mildred Roberts Eiling announces that she will observe the opening of her new Little Folks shop at 175 West Maple Tuesday.

The first shop was opened on March 1, 1948 at 141 West Maple, but due to an increase in stock and an added line of juvenile furniture, Mrs. Eiling found the store too small. The new quarters will offer more than twice as much space for stock and display, and will include one of the most complete juvenile furniture departments in the Detroit area.

A layette department has also been installed, arranged to give complete and comfortable shopping facilities to mothers. The Toddler section will carry a full line of apparel for the "run-around" boy and girl. This will include the new and enlarged shoe department to six years, and boys' from two to eight, is stocked in all sizes, modern materials and tailoring.

Widely Experienced

Mrs. Eiling brings to Birmingham mothers a wide background of experience in all branches of juvenile needs, including a special knowledge in the fitting of children's shoes. She gained this while studying with Dr. Kenyon at Columbia University and through direct contact with the leading expert on child posture. This latter training was received while Mrs. Eiling was engaged in pre-school education at Vassar, Yale and Columbia.

Mrs. Eiling, in speaking of the opening of her new quarters, said, "Fixtures, the color scheme, arrangement and selection of stock in the Little Folks shop has all been made with one idea—to provide our customers with the best style, material and service with the greatest ease and comfort we can provide."

She's a Honey

Katherine Kemp

Miss Katherine Kemp, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kemp of Yarmouth road, was chosen by George Harrell, Hollywood photographer, as one of the Hinky Honies of Carroll College. "Hinky Honies" is the term used to denote those girls selected yearly to appear in the beauty section of the Carroll-Hinaka, college yearbook.

Miss Kemp, a junior, is a music major and has been active in orchestra and choir work as well as the French club. She is also pledged to the Beta Chi Theta sorority. During the summer months, she is serving as secretary to the president of Carroll College, Waukesha, Wis.

Exchange Vows in Church Ceremony

At an eight o'clock ceremony in Kirk of the Hills on Saturday, the Rev. Leslie A. Becket officiated. Miss Dorothy May Holden, daughter of Mrs. Hester Holden of Azusa, Calif., and Morris Holden of Berkeley and John William Main, son of Mrs. Frank L. Main of Linden road and the late Mr. Main.

The bride wore traditional white satin which featured a seed pearl design on the neckline. A Mary Stuart cap of lace edged by satin held her illusion veil of fingertip length and she carried a cascade arrangement of gladioli and carnations centered with an orchid.

Miss Pattie Main was maid of honor and Mrs. Arild Carr was bridesmaid. Both wore tulle and taffeta gowns with matching sauntlets and net picture hats. They carried bouquets of mixed summer flowers in shades of yellow. Judith Ann Holden, flower girl was in a floor length yellow tulle gown and wore a hand of flowers in her hair. She carried a miniature basket of flowers.

Donald Main acted as best man and the ushers were Jack Stanger and Donald Tweedle. A reception was held at the Batavia Inn. The bride's mother wore a beige silk dress, a feathered hat and Mrs. Main was in powder blue with a pink hat and accessories. Both wore harmonizing corsages.

Following a "three-week" wedding trip to Washington and New York, the couple will reside in Lansing where Mr. Main is studying engineering at Michigan State.

Makes Debut

Miss Dodo Booth

Miss Dodo Booth was presented to society by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Scripps Booth of Marlyle drive at a dinner dance in the Booth residence Saturday.

Lights were strung throughout the garden and tables were set about the out-of-doors dance floor. For the occasion, the debutante wore a strapless formal gown cut with a basque waist of antique white tulle highlighted with a petal shaped neckline and tulle ruffling. The bouffant skirt was of layers of white tulle.
