Obituary Notices

George W. Greig

George West Greig, 52, a resident of Birmingham for the past year, died suddenly Saturday in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Born in Scotland, he was the founder of the George W. Greig Textile and Carpet company. He was a member of the Detroit Yacht Club, the Masonic Order and the Grosse Pointe Power Squadron. He was also commander of the coast guard temporary reserve.

Survivors include his widow, Esther; a son, William Thomas; and two brothers, Thomas and Frederick.

Funeral services were conducted from the William K. Hamilton Funeral Home in Detroit yesterday morning. Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery.

Mrs. Doris R. Thompson

Mrs. Doris R. Thompson, 60, 1705 Opdyke road, Galloway Lake, Pontiac township, died Wednesday night at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, after an illness of six weeks. A music teacher in Birmingham for the past 30 years, she had moved to the Pontiac address from here only a short time ago.

She was born in New Haven on May 28, 1889, and came to Birmingham as a little girl, graduating from the old Birmingham High School. On Dec. 14, 1919, she was married to David H. Thompson in Birmingham. She was a member of the local American Legion auxiliary and the Soroptimist club.

Survivors include her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Donald Erickson of Birmingham; three brothers, Fenton J. Watkins, Birmingham, Glenn Watkins, Detroit, and Frank R. Watkins, St. Petersburg, Fla.; and two grandchildren. The Rev. W. Glen Harris, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated at the funeral services which were held Saturday afternoon from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial was in Greenlawn cemetery.

Mrs. Lillian F. Haydon

Mrs. Lillian F. Haydon, 70, of East Way road, Bloomfield Hills, died in a convalescent home Saturday, following a long illness.

For the past 10 years she had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Clyde L. Hagerman. Lillian Fender was born on Dec. 17, 1878 in Hamilton, Ont., and 17 years later was married, and to Henry Ellsworth Haydon, who later served as governor of Alaska, under President Grover Cleveland. Mr. Haydon died some time ago.

Prior to coming to make her home in Birmingham, Mrs. Haydon had been employed as a buyer for the Marshall Field company in Chicago.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Hagerman, and one granddaughter, Dona Hagerman, both of Bloomfield Hills. The funeral services were held from the Bell Funeral home Monday afternoon with burial in Greenlawn cemetery.

Robert W. Johnston

Robert W. Johnston, 29, 28275 Orchard Lake road, a native of Birmingham, died suddenly Saturday night. Mr. Johnston had completed his day's work with the Great Lakes Oil company in Detroit, where he was a yard man, and had started home in his car when he suffered a fatal heart attack.

He was born in Birmingham on Sept. 9, 1919, and attended schools here and in Franklin. He married Ellen Sole on January 9, 1939, who survives.

Mr. Johnston served with the 60th Armored division during World War II and saw active service with both the 3rd and 7th Armies in Europe. He was a member of the Cook-Nelson American Legion Post No. 20, in Pontiac.

Surviving besides his widow are two children, Ellen Houslie and Robert Edward, all of Farmington township; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland R. Johnson of Pontiac and one sister, Mrs. Joseph Allen, also of Pontiac.

Funeral services were held from the Manley Bailey Funeral home yesterday afternoon with burial in Franklin cemetery. Members of Cook-Nelson Post conducted military rites at the grave.

Alfred Erickson

Alfred Erickson, 72, of Detroit and Walnut Lake, died in the former city Sunday night.

Mr. Erickson was born in Finland on Feb. 1, 1877, a son of the late John and Sophie Erick Erickson. He came to this vicinity about 30 years ago, and has been a millwright for the Ford Motor company.

He is survived by his widow, Matilda; two daughters, Inea and Mrs. Clarence Erickson and four grandchildren.

The funeral will be held in the Lutheran church in Highland Park at 10 o'clock this afternoon with the Rev. John Nelson officiating. Burial will be made in Oakview cemetery.

Mrs. Frances C. Whitney

Mrs. Frances Campbell Whitney, 70, of Westwood, died Tuesday in St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Pontiac, after a short illness. She was born in Bangon, Mich., on July 7, 1878, and on Dec. 22, 1904, was married to Frank M. Whitney, who died in 1929.

Mrs. Whitney was graduated from Lawrence High School and the Michigan State Normal College. She was a member of the First Congregational church of Columbus, Ohio, and came here three years ago to meet her husband with her son, Myron F. Whitney. Since coming to Birmingham she became associated with the Presbyterian Women's Union.

The survivors include her son, Myron F. Whitney, of Washington, D.C.; two sisters, Mrs. Etta Marshall, East Detroit and Mrs. Harry J. Lurkins of Paw, Mich.

The body was taken from the Manley Bailey-Funeral home yesterday to Columbia, where funeral services will be held at 10:30 tomorrow morning. Burial will be in Greenlawn cemetery.

Thomas A. Griffin, Jr.

Thomas A. Griffin, Jr., 40, died suddenly Sunday at his home, 149 Worth. Mr. Griffin was born in Detroit where he attended public schools and later graduated from the University of Detroit. He was a manufacturer's agent.

He is survived by his widow, Retta; a daughter Patricia Ann; a son, Thomas A. III; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Griffin.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of the Hamilton Funeral Home in Detroit, with burial Tuesday in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Harold M. Stephen

Harold Merion Stephen, 1948 Birmingham boulevard, died Monday in San Diego, Calif., after a long illness.

He was born in Vassar, Mich., on June 17, 1902, and attended the public schools there, later being graduated from the University of Michigan. In 1928 he married the former Elizabeth Whitman, of Ferndale.

Mr. Stephen came to Birmingham from Royal Oak about 11 years ago. He was an investment analyst for the Detroit Trust company.

Survivors include his widow and one daughter Barbara J. Stephen, both of Birmingham; his mother Mrs. M. H. Stephen of Sutherland of Ferndale and Mrs. William K. McNally of Jackson.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Bell Funeral home, with burial in the Bruce Armada cemetery in Romeo.

Detroiters Pay $170 To Bloomfield Court

Two drivers and their passengers paid fines totaling $170 on reckless driving and drunk and disorderly charges Monday morning in the Bloomfield Hills court. Bernard J. Buzinski, 33, and his brother Claude, 31, were fined $65 and $20 on the two charges, and were released on payment. The two were arrested Sunday. Dennis Perdue, 28, and James K. Rouse, 39, were arrested early Monday morning, paying the same fines in lieu of jail sentences. All four were from Detroit.
