

Underdogs Win Church League Play-offs Here

A rejuvenated Holy Name quintet shared the accolades of the crowd with a scrappy Lathrup Township Community Church and the Embury Methodist five after winning Y church league play-off games at Barnum Junior High School.

Holy Name was tied with the Order of DeMolay at the end of the first quarter 6-6. In the second eight minutes of play, Jim Kothe hit on two dog shots and was matched by Dick Kimball as both teams battled to break out in front.

It was in the third quarter that Keith Ege netted four consecutive baskets from seventeen feet out, to give the Woodland Avenue boys a 20 to 18 lead. Connie Burkan and Don Rolph broke away for two baskets each and DeMolay tied the score at 20 all. A basket and field goal by Bob Semowski paved the way for the Holy Name victory.

Lathrup Victors

In the second game of the evening, Lathrup Township Church took an eight point lead over First Methodist and then coasted to a 32 to 15 victory, to gain revenge for their two point defeat of the previous week. John Cobb and Art Clarke paced the Maize and Green with 12 and 11 points respectively. Barry Harper tossed in four baskets for First Methodist to lead his teammates in scoring. The halftime score was 13 to 4 in favor of Lathrup.

Embury Methodist ran into stiff opposition from St. James Episcopal church but finally broke loose and ran up a 38 to 23 victory. Harry Suggen had 16 points chalked up for the Methodist quintet before he was ejected from the game on five personal fouls. Charles Thomas and Bud DeLoria paced St. James with three baskets each and one foul shot.

As result of the first round of play, Holy Name will oppose St. James at 7 p.m., Embury Methodist faces Lathrup at 8 p.m. and Order of DeMolay tangles with First Methodist at 9 p.m. All games are Wednesday evening at the Barnum Junior High School.

Jaycees Promise Local Fans Good Program at the Big Boxing Show April 2

Chairman Harry Meredith has

Work of Local Doctor Receives National Acclaim

A page of the medical section of the current issue of "Newsweek" is devoted to the Corneal Corner, an enterprise in which Dr. James Clark Moloney, 414 Arlington, is deeply interested. The work began in 1942 when Dr. Moloney, a psychiatrist, and Dr. John C. Montgomery, pediatrician, realized that their problems were closely related.

Dr. Montgomery was concerned with the problems facing mothers of newborn infants, while Dr. Moloney was aware that many adult mental ailments can be traced to infancy. The two began working together, and with seven child experts, founded the association known as "The Corneal Corner."

Mrs. Helen Sherman Guest Speaker at Pierce PTA Meeting

"Primarily, sex education is the development of good attitudes toward sex," stated Mrs. Helen Sherman, lecturer and teacher, who spoke at a meeting of the Pierce PTA last Thursday evening on the subject "How to Tell Your Children About Sex."

The three-fold purpose of good sex education for our children, according to Mrs. Sherman, is: 1) to prepare them for a successful happy marriage; 2) to insure good personality development; 3) to keep our children out of trouble.

She said that parents can do several things to assure healthy sex attitudes in their children. First, they should see that their children are properly and concretely informed about sex; second, if they set the pattern that marriage and home life are fine, their children will tend to follow this pattern. Third, they should see that their children have good wholesome recreation in their home, school and community.

Refreshments were served following the meeting by Mrs. Kenneth Olson, Mrs. Kenneth Whitlock, Mrs. Edward Thomas, Mrs.

Gordon, Harvey, Mrs. Edward White, Mrs. Marvin Hillicker and Mrs. Dale Chrysler.

Paul Miller

selected Paul Miller, Royal Dak, to serve as matchmaker for this show. Miller has had a vast experience in promoting amateur boxing shows throughout Michigan during the past 15 years, and for the past six years has been boxing director for the City of Ferndale's recreation program.

He has also been matchmaker for all the amateur boxing shows staged in southern Oakland county by civic organizations. Miller is a former Michigan amateur bantamweight and featherweight boxer.

More Top Talent

Another bout of interest will bring Henderson Payne of Pontiac, holder of the 1949 Michigan 135 pound crown, who will trade punches with Royal Dak, former champion, Edward Jenkins from the Striggs A. C.

A second heavyweight scrap will feature the hard-hitting colored battler Solomon Pitts, 200-pounder from Detroit, against the huge Harvey Mack, from the Centre Recreation. Mack, a truck driver, stands six feet, four inches in his socks, and tips the scale at 220 pounds of brawn and muscle.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce announces that proceeds from the show will be used for charitable purposes, also, that if local citizens will support the program, boxing will be one of the main projects of this organization in the future. Choice seats for this show may be obtained from any member of the Birmingham Jaycee, at Craig's Sporting goods store or Leonard's Electrical store.

Four Detroit hospitals are now using this system, which is endorsed by 65 persons, either doctors or nonprofessionals, who are interested in child care.

"Reactions," the article continues, "to the rooming-in plan came quickly and were mainly adverse. We were called 'the big boom boys,' Dr. Moloney recalls and our critics meant it. Two years ago some of my friends at a party were so openly hostile that I left. Recently I met the same group. They didn't seem so hostile then; they were just more querulous."

University hospitals throughout the country are fast recognizing the merits of the plan, and are constantly increasing their facilities to make use of it. Ellet Saarnien, Bloomfield Hills architect, has suggested including a series of small individual units, cottage-like, with fireplaces and pleasant bedrooms for delivery and rooming-in periods. These units would cluster around a main medical building equipped to handle any emergency surgical work, but only when needed.

U. of M. Instructor Speaks Here Tonight in Lecture Series

Due to illness, Dr. George Kish, fourth scheduled speaker in the series on the Russian-American conflict, being given at Baldwin high school, was unable to be present last Thursday evening. Dr. Kish will make his appearance here on March 24.

Dr. Nicholas Marbury Efimenco, instructor in political science at the University of Michigan, spoke last week in his place. He formerly taught international relations at the University of Minnesota, and also served as instructor in the Far Eastern language studies program for the army during the last war.

The evening Prof. Andrei Lobanov-Rostovsky will speak at 8 o'clock on "Eastern Europe in its Historical Perspective." A former member of the Russian nobility, the speaker is associated with the history department at the University of Michigan. He was born in Yokohama, Japan, and received his education in Russia and France. He has lectured and taught in this country since 1930, joining the faculty of the University of Michigan in 1946, after 15 years at the University of California.

Prof. Lobanov-Rostovsky served with both French and Russian forces in World War I, and joined Gen. Denikin in South Russia after hostilities ceased. He is a well known writer on European affairs, and is a member of the American Historical Association, the Institute of Historical Research in London, the Foreign Press Association in London and holds the ancient Russian Orders of St. Anne, St. Stanislaus and St. Vladimir.

Only Two Weeks Left for Red Cross Drive

Harry O. Smart, local chairman of the American Red Cross campaign, reports that collections in Birmingham are progressing well. In the house-to-house canvass which is being conducted, workers report that they are receiving splendid cooperation from householders. Smart asks that this be continued through the remaining two weeks of the drive.

He announced that in one or two areas there was a shortage of volunteer workers, and that some of the residents may not be contacted. In the event that this happens, Smart asks that these persons mail their remittance directly to the ham at 164 W. Maple avenue.
