WHO IS JOHN S. O'GORMAN, Jr.?
Ever since a group of interested citizens prevailed on him to run for the City Commission, some people have asked, "Just who is John S. O'Gorman, Jr.?"
That's a perfectly natural question. An intelligent voter marshals all the facts before casting his ballot. To those Birmingham citizens who may not know Mr. O'Gorman we welcome the opportunity of presenting this thumbnail sketch:
Birmingham resident 13 1/2 years; age 42; married; father of two; branch manager in Detroit for Johnson Service Co., manufacturers and contractors for automatic temperature control systems; graduate engineer, Yale University, 1929, B.S. degree; member, board of governors, North East Home Owners Association since its formation; member, Episcopal Church; active civically; 6 ft. 4 1/4 in. tall—a Big Man for a Big Job.
Birmingham needs men of his caliber to help guide its future growth. Birmingham needs a man capable of sound decisions, a business man and an engineer. Three candidates have been announced for the commission. Two are to be elected. Make one of them John S. O'Gorman, Jr.
