

James C. Sears will be Sentenced Mar. 29

James Carey Sears, 24, of Detroit is being held without bail until sentence is passed on him March 29. Sears was arrested on Jan. 11 by the Bloomfield Hills police on suspicion of breaking into the home of Mrs. George Phillips. According to the police, he pleaded guilty to the charge when he appeared Friday before Circuit Court Judge H. Russell Holland. Police said he had confessed to the charge on Thursday. He previously served a term in Ionia State penitentiary on a similar offense.

Interior of the New Lake Jewelry Store

The above photo shows a part of the interior of the new Lloyd L. Lake jewelry store at 69 W. Maple. Located next door to his former site, the new location offers a far better display arrangement of the silverware for which the Lake store has become famous in Birmingham and vicinity. The interior has been completely renovated and arranged so that customers may shop with greater ease and enjoy a better view of the jewelry in stock. As well as silverware, the Lake store carries a complete line of men's and ladies' watches, rings and similar items.

OPEN ALL DAY WEDNESDAY

Schafer Students to Hold Fifth Annual Art Show

Art students of Mrs. Paul R. Schafer, 555 E. Maple, will be presented in their fifth annual show at the Community House Saturday afternoon, March 26. The exhibit will open to the public at 3 o'clock.

The work of Dickie Liskow, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Liskow of Vinsetta Park, will be one of the features of the show. Dickie has been studying art with Mrs. Schafer since fall, working mainly with crayons. His pictures are his own impressions, gathered from listening to his parents discuss items which they have read in the newspapers.

Among the pictures of Dickie's which will be shown are two crayon drawings, one of the flight of birds which passed over New York City a few months ago, striking many of the tall buildings as they went, the other of his father painting the house. His one work in oils is of an old pier in Massachusetts which he copied from a snapshot his mother had taken.

Excellent Outlet
"Dickie," Mrs. Schafer said, "has been 'exposed' to art all his life. Mrs. Liskow has done some painting and has her own studio. Dickie just went ahead and painted, and when bad weather kept him indoors, it affords an excellent outlet for the energies of a little boy too young for school."

The exhibit will also include the work of the grade school classes, junior and senior high school and adult classes.

The grade school boys have titled their part of the show "Michigan on Paper", and have selected pastels, colored pencil and water color as their medium of expression. The majority of the boys have chosen landscapes in Michigan as the subject of their paintings.

Water Colors and Oils
Robby, Wright, Jerry McCullough, Gerry Rosenberger, Gordon Degener, Jim Melurich, Bob Stahl, Bob Thompson, Harvey Swift, Bob Owen, Tom McDaniel, Carter Ratcliff, Peter Weldy, Van Howe, Michael Williams and Tom Harris are the members of this group. The boys, members of the third through sixth grades in local schools, range from eight to 12 years of age.

The adult group will show landscapes, seascapes and portraits in water colors and oils. Mrs. Juanita Bolin will show her newest portraits in pencil. Mrs. Edith Baumgarth will have on display some of the paintings seen in her show last December, as well as others which have been completed since that time.

Mrs. E. Liskow and Mrs. L. Teutsch will exhibit oils and water colors of scenes painted in and around Birmingham. Mrs. Harold E. Towne will also have several scenes on display, with water color as her medium of expression.

Scouts Preparing for Exhibition in Detroit

John Bugas and Walter O. Briggs, Jr., both of Bloomfield Hills, are among the committee members who are in charge of the Boy Scout exposition to be held in Convention Hall, Detroit, April 21, 22, and 23. Bugas is working as general chairman of the affair, while Briggs is a member of the finance committee.

The exposition is being planned by Scouts and their leaders in the metropolitan area to dramatize to the public all phases of scouting. Scouts, working in booths, will be used to display the various interests of their organization, such as pioneering, log rolling, Indian lore and dances, aerodynamics and hand loom weaving. Puppets will be demonstrate which have been made by the Scouts, along with many other hobbies, skills and handicrafts.

More than 27,000 Scouts in the area are already selling tickets for the affair. Amos R. Shields, chief scout executive, emphasized that the sale of tickets was merely to cover the expenses of the show which is not a money raising proposition.

We Heard It Said By:

E. A. Buttraw, 14-Mile rd.: "Birmingham certainly has changed during the past 30 years. It is, of course, the inevitable change that happens in the life of many good residential suburban towns. I can remember when Birmingham had more of the real village atmosphere; when there were beautiful old trees where wild pavements now exist; when many folks would be downtown Saturday nights, both from the village and nearby farm areas, to meet, shop, and visit; and when there was more of the old-fashioned evidence of neighborliness—everybody knew everybody else in those days. Ah, what nostalgia memory brings forth!"
