

Dr. Dwight Ireland Attends Institute of United Nations

Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, superintendent of Birmingham public schools, will be among the prominent educators in the United States and Canada who are attending the United Nations Institute at New York University today and tomorrow, March 24 and 25. Mrs. Anne Leuth, chairman of the social studies department of Baldwin senior high school and Mrs. Dorothy Perry, instructor in Social Studies there will also attend.

Regarding the meeting, Dr. Ireland said, "This is a further endeavor on the part of the Birmingham public schools to have teachers well informed on contemporary world problems so that classrooms in social studies will reflect not only an excellent understanding of world affairs on the part of teachers, but leadership in getting students to become actively interested in world affairs, and to be well versed through proper sources of information."

The two-day institute will include the observation of UN sessions at Lake Success, addresses by international officials and professional meetings at New York University. They will hear addresses by representatives from Yugoslavia, the State of Israel and China, as well as those made by workers of the United Nations from various groups in this country.

Dean Ernest O. Melby, of NYU's school of education, and Dr. Benjamin V. Cohen, assistant secretary general of the UN for public information, are co-chairmen of the affair.

Children Hear Talk by "Jerry McSafely"

Sgt. Wayne Fernelius of the Detroit traffic department spoke to the pupils of Adams and Spruill schools yesterday on traffic safety. He was assisted by his "advisor," Jerry McSafely, who made a deep and lasting impression on his listeners.

Ferndale Man Tells of Jail War Trials

Franklin E. Morris, of Ferndale former prosecuting attorney for Oakland county, was the guest speaker for the Exchange club at their luncheon meeting Tuesday.

Morris spent over a year with governmental agencies which conducted the war trials in Japan. He spoke of the things he had seen there, of the trials themselves and of the conditions which exist throughout the country in the post-war years.

Stage Joint Exhibit at Adrian, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. William Whitney of Birmingham are holding a joint exhibit of their work which is open to the public in Studio Angelico, Siena Heights College, at Adrian, Michigan, two consecutive Saturday afternoons, March 19 and 26 from 2:00 to 5:30 o'clock.

This is a second of a series of displays featuring the accomplishments of contemporary American artist-craftsmen held in Studio Angelico's "Little Gallery."

Charlotte Lamm Whitney was born in New York City and spent most of her childhood in Yonkers, N. Y. where her father was an architect. Later she moved to Washington, D. C. where she attended the Corcoran School of Art and George Washington University. After receiving her bachelor's of fine arts and a scholarship to Cranbrook Academy of Art, she moved to Michigan and received her master of fine arts at Cranbrook.

Following her marriage to Bill Whitney she continued her work in painting and metal work, and is now combining her artistic endeavors with the care of Charline Whitney.

Mr. Whitney's career began in New Orleans, and was to receive its first impetus in the Corcoran School of Art in Washington, D. C. Later Bill Whitney's art career, though rudely interrupted, was to be profoundly influenced by the events of 1941-1945. After having spent 21 months in the Pacific, a year in Hawaii, combat service in Mokin and Saipan, Mr. Whitney was to resume his art studies at Cranbrook where he is still working.

Originality in Design Included in the Whitney show are pieces in the three dimensional arts, metal craft, enameling, and jewelry, through which the artists demonstrate originality in design and in the use of material. The enamel on metal is of special interest, as it requires skill and knowledge of the ancient art of vitreous enameling employed by the early Egyptians and Chinese.

There also are a number of contemporary paintings executed in oil and easel in the exhibit. In these the artist has portrayed abstractly various trends and frustrations common to present-day thinking.
