Mrs. William O. Merrill was guest speaker at the Walnut Lake Women's Club meeting last Thursday evening. She opened her address by issuing an invitation to the club to join the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs. The five projects of the Federation were explained. Mrs. Merrill urged that new groups be organized that clubs keep encouraging young women into their groups to keep organizations young. All women's groups have the same aim, peace, and so should join hands around the world. She closed her address by saying that the club should be on the United Nations. Women have come into their own in the past 50 years and exert a great deal of influence. Through these organizations they can better the world.

A plea that parents set moral standards for their children concluded the talk. Mrs. Merrill suggested that parents use these standards in setting the example; prayer at the table, eliminating cocktails, honesty in everything, forgiveness and faith in God. After the speech, Mrs. Merrill entertained the women by presenting three monologues, "The Cornstalk Fiddle" and "Angelina Johnson" by Paul Lawrence Dunbar and "Brother Spier" by William Carleton. Refreshments were served by Mrs. E. F. Gorman, Mrs. John Hoy and Mrs. John Kurriell. Mrs. Robert Joyce presided at the tea table.

The nominating committee for the PTA has prepared the slate to be presented at the April meeting. On the committee were Mrs. George Osterbeck, Stewart Schultz and Mrs. John W. E. Kendall; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Morton; father vice-president, Edward Sinter; mother vice-president, Mrs. Perry Graber; teacher vice-president, Miss Marjorie Votey; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Donald Sellner; historian, Edosh Stevens. Nominations from the floor will be accepted Monday, April 11, when the election takes place.

Tom-loms were beating their weird rhythm in the background and boys were dressed in feathers and war paint as Cub Scouts held their first pack meeting Monday evening at the school. A flag ceremony opened the meeting. Roll call and the parents followed. There is a contest on among the three dens for parent attendance. Each cub gets a point for a parent, two points for one parent and five points if both his parents attend. The winners must give a party for the other dens at the end of the year.

Glenn of Farmington, District Scout Commissioner, presented the new charter. W. E. Kendall, president of the sponsoring group, the PTA accepted.

Loyal McMillan, Scout executive, spoke to the parents on their part in the cub program.

To the beat, beat, beat of the tom-loms, the cub performed a bob-cat ceremony. Nine new members were presented with membership cards and bob-cat badges. Don Harrison as Aljola was dressed in full Indian array. Kirk Lewis served as den chief and the cubs dressed in Indian costume formed a council for a picturesque ceremony.

Herbert Lewis, former cubmaster, presented wolf badges, a gold arrow and a silver arrow to Gordon Smith, Stewart Schultz and Douglas Lewis.
