Spectators sighed when actress Diana Lynn modeled this Imperial Chinchilla coat in Los Angeles—who wouldn't? But they gasped when they heard its price—and for good reason. The warm garment sells for a cool $7,000. Some 250 chinchillas made the supreme sacrifice to fashion what is described as "the world's costliest coat."

Mr. and Mrs. Jules DeBaubien are back in their Harmon street home now. Mr. DeBaubien went out to San Francisco five weeks ago and three weeks ago Mrs. DeBaubien flew out to join him for a vacation. While on the West Coast, they visited former Birmingham residents, Mr. and Mrs. John Shiner. Enroute home, the DeBaubiens took a leisurely tour of the states.

WITH THE Collegians

Elizabeth Smith, a sophomore at Marygrove College, is on the program committee of the Sophomore-Senior Ball, annual spring formal which will be given June 3 in Alumnae Hall. It will have an "Old Southern Garden" theme with trolleys and flowers decorating the end of the hall reserved for patrons, chaplains and guests. The fireplace will be decorated as the front veranda of an ante-bellum mansion. Miss Smith, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith, is a graduate of Little Flower High School.

Two local girls were among 70 students honored on Tuesday, May 24, at the annual Honors Convocation in McAuley Auditorium of Morey College. Joan Lawlor, junior, who resides on Martell avenue, Bloomfield Hills, received scholastic honors; Joan Danahe, sophomore, 883 Mohegan, received scholastic and co-curricular honors. Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Danahe, attended the Little Flower high school. The Rev. Cornelius Crowley, C.S.B., of Assumption College, in Windsor, Ont., discussed "The Role of the Catholic College Student in America Today."

Thomas J. Musik, 744 Bates; Melvin A. Noon, 141 S. Bates; Louis J. Schneider, 273 Euclid, and Nancy G. Sanders of Bloomfield Hills were recently initiated into the University of Michigan chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, national scholarship society.

Barbara Jones was one of a group of students of the occupational therapy department of Western Michigan College who attended the annual meeting of the Michigan Occupational Therapy Association held during the last weekend at Detroit.

Miss Anne Hobart, a student at Alma College, participated in the school's annual May Day activities last week.

John V. Main, a junior at Michigan State College, was named one of four as distinguished military students by Col. Charles E. Disinger, corps commandant last week. The honor places Main in line for selection as distinguished military graduates, provided they maintain their present high standing in military and scholastic subjects. Distinguished military graduates are eligible for regular army commissions.

Hugh Quinn was recently named assistant night sports editor of the University of Michigan daily at Ann Arbor. Last weekend he was in Evanston, Ill., covering the Big Nine annual track meet at Northwestern University.
