Dorothy Mae Stewart is Wed Saturday to William Grubbs

At an eight o'clock evening ceremony in the First Methodist Church of Birmingham Saturday, Miss Dorothy Mae Stewart was united in marriage to William C. Grubbs. The couple, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Stewart of Sausalito, were first of Birmingham, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Grubbs of Edgewood drive, Pontiac, returned to the city before the Rev. Robert L. Lavrason before an altar lanked with spring flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride, who was given in white lace over satin. The dress was cut with a high neckline which folded back into a Peter Pan collar, a fitted bodice and long pointed sleeves. The full hoop skirt swept into a chapel train and a band of lace held her fingertips veil of illusion. In her arms she carried a bouquet of carnations and lily of the valley centered with a white orchid.

Miss Patricia Clarke of Detroit was maid of honor in a soft green sateen dress, marquisette gown fashioned with a bertha effect, a fitted bodice and a full skirt. She wore crown and veil. The bridesmaids were Misses Margaret G. Groszeth of Birmingham and cousin of the bridegroom, Miss Joyce Wiley of Cincinnati. They wore gown identical to the honor maids and yellow daisies in their hair. The flowers in their baskets were also yellow daisies. Young Lydia Swanson, a cousin of the bride, as flower girl, wore pale yellow and had a crown of white daisies on her head. She carried a colonial nosegay of daisies.

Robert Pack of Pontiac acted as best man and the guests were seated by Richard Stewart, a brother of the bride from Square Lake; William Dwyer of Detroit; Charles Opie of Pontiac, and Elliott Bird of Ann Arbor.

For the ceremony and reception which was held later at Maynas, Mrs. Stewart wore a floor length aqua gown with lace trimming and pinned tiny pale pink orchids to her shoulder. Mrs. Grubbs was in coral and her corsage was of delicate and small white orchids.

For the first step of the wedding trip to the Smokies, the new Mrs. Grubbs selected a pale blue wool gabardine suit with brown alligator shoes and purse. Her natural straw hat was highlighted with brown veiling and she wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Upon their return, they will make their home in Pontiac.

Final Plans Made for Annual Spring Plant Sale May 21

Members of St. Elizabeth's Guild of St. James Church are making final plans for their plant sale to be held in conjunction with St. James' 20th annual Spring Festival and Pot Parade.

The plant sale will open May 21 at 10:00 a.m. and continue through the week and will be held in the church yard on West Maple. Plants of all types including annuals and perennials are to be sold and order blanks were mailed to regular customers some time ago.

Mrs. Wallace DaSof, sale chairman, has asked that these order blanks be returned as soon as possible to assume prompt delivery.
