City Employee Retires

Guy Shattuck (left) is shown receiving a portable radio from Marx Fall, superintendent of the department of public works in Birmingham. The gift was from fellow employees in the department and was presented last week when Shattuck retired as senior clerk.

* * *

Guy Shattuck, 940 Haynes, retired as senior clerk of the department of public works on Nov. 1. He had been with the city since 1942.

A resident of Birmingham for the past 35 years, Shattuck began work in 1908 as telegraph operator for the Pere Marquette railroad. He went to the DUR in 1915 as car foreman, and was one of the last men to leave the company when it disbanded several years later.

He operated a paint and wallpaper store on South Woodward for several years prior to entering the city department.

Shattuck was honored last week by fellow workers who presented him with a portable radio as a farewell present.

In a two hour rapid-fire demonstration of the tools under actual working conditions, 35 pieces of equipment were introduced to representatives of the industrial and commercial fields along with custom operators, contractors and members of local governments in Michigan.

Members of the press and radio from outstate as well as Detroit also witnessed the preview.

Test models of an appliance that uses the warm air inside a dwelling to produce piping hot water in the water tank are being installed in 100 homes this fall. Manufacturers believe the apparatus—consisting chiefly of a series of coils containing freon gas—eventually may be used to air-condition the home in addition to heating the water.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Clam Chowder Can Be Dynamite!

If Smiley Roberts is a friend of yours, like he is mine, and if you want to keep his friendship, like I do, don't ever let him hear you say that good clam chowder can be made without cream.

In New England, where Smiley comes from, friendships have been broken over tomatoes versus cream in clam chowder. Experts say that south of Boston the tomato reigns supreme, but north of Boston it's cream—or else!

From where I sit, whether it should have cream or tomatoes is simply a matter of taste. This is plain to anyone who doesn't come from clam chowder country.

What a great world this would be if we could all see that most prejudices are matters of taste only. Some like hot coffee. Some like it iced. Some people like a temperate glass of beer. Others prefer ice-cold lemonade. My grandmother used to say, "Prejudice that sees only what it pleases, cannot see very plain."

CAN ALL COOK BOOKS BE WRONG?

In all the best cook books, recipes calling for white granulated sugar specify just "sugar." Not cane sugar. Not beet sugar. Not sugar from any particular plant.

Why?

Because all sugar for household use is sucrose, and sugar is sugar no matter whether it comes from sugar beets or sugar cane.

Leading Home Economists everywhere freely state that any supposed difference in pure sugars is simply a figment of the mind.

So it's smart shopping to buy sugar for value. Buy—
