Navajo Project

The Walnut Lake student council again this year selected the Navajo Indians to be the recipients of the school's annual charity project. They were chosen because of their great need and because they are in this country. Elling King, Penny King and Peter Sints make up the collection committee.

Wednesday at the school assembly the ingathering was held as part of the Thanksgiving program. Contributions of clean, mended clothing, money for food, mended toys and school supplies were brought by the children.

Packaging and freight expenses will be taken care of by the PTA. John Woodman volunteered to head the committee of workers who will bundle the goods. He will gladly accept any offers of assistance.

Apples at School

Three bushels of apples are being delivered each week to the school under the federal surplus plan. They are distributed among the children after the recess period.

Girl Scout Affairs

Girl Scouts held a business meeting at the school Monday after-gale and Ronald of Comfort drive attended the Michigan-Ohio State game in Ann Arbor Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Anderson and Marlene of Royal Oak as their guests.

Guests at the William Sloan home on Inkster road were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wagner and their daughter Rebecca and Mr. and Mrs. Larned Goodrich. They spent the afternoon watching the Michigan game on television and remained to be dinner guests.

She's Seven Now

Peggy Sloan was seven years old Friday. Four little girls from her room at school went home with her to watch television and help her celebrate. Her guests for the afternoon dinner were (Armen Sutton, Janet Woodman, Corinne Sarlund, and Karen Kendall.

Harvest Supper

Approximately 200 were served at the Women's Club Harvest Supper Thursday evening. This was their first attempt at serving a large group of people and the affair was a huge success. Due to a shortage of facilities, the food had to be prepared in the homes of committee members and brought to the clubhouse. Despite the hardships they worked under, they managed to have sufficient food and to serve it piping hot.

The profits made that evening will probably be added to the Community House fund.

Women's Club

Travel movies and music will be featured at the next regular meeting of the Women's Club which will be held Dec. 1 at the school at 8 o'clock. This meeting will close the membership drive and the winning team will be announced.

Thanksgiving Activities

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Walton and Douglas of Inkster road will go to Marine City for Thanksgiving. They will attend a Walton family reunion.

A family dinner will be held at the R.C. Banker home on Comfort drive. Daughters Marion, Ruth and Betty will be home for the celebration. Non-in-law, Dr. George Fritz, and four grandchildren will complete the family group.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nightingale will have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Paul Anderson and their daughter, Marlene.

The Martin Wades will attend two dinners on Thanksgiving Day. First they will go to Martin's mother's, Mrs. Martha Wade in Detroit. The second celebration will be with Martha's family at the home of her sister, Mrs. Lynn Burnett.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bennett and their children will take part in a family dinner at the home of Mrs. Bennett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomson in Detroit.

The Karuso family, Ted and Betty, and their son and daughter will spend the day with Ted's mother, Mrs. John Kenyon.

Walnut Lake Cubs

Den 2 of the Cub Scouts met at the home of Mrs. Donald Benway on Lakeside Thursday afternoon. Mounting pictures of animals and cartoon characters on colored construction paper, covering these with glass and binding them with tape, the boys made plaques. Marc Whims was a guest at the meeting. Mrs. Benway served refreshments.

Saturday morning Den 1 met at the Sints home. A variety of activities made up their program, conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Sints. They finished the plaques they started last week, worked on the pop doll, played basket ball and popped corn.

Venison Steak

Stewart Schultz accompanied by his son, Raleigh, and his father-in-law, A. W. Gamberfeld, left on Monday to go deer hunting. He returned Wednesday with a six-point.

Saturday evening the Schultz entertained the Frank Sweets and the Howard Goulds at a venison dinner.

PTA Award

Fourth graders won the PTA award this month for parent attendance. The winner is figured on a percentage basis because of the varying sizes of the classes. Second grade has won the award twice. Here are the percentages for this month: kindergarten parents represented 26.4, first grade 24.8, second 29.5, and fourth 54.5, fifth 25, and sixth 45.4.

Junior Big Elects

Junior Big met Friday evening at the school with 21 young people attendees. Officers for the year were elected. Norma Sinclair was chosen as president, Billy Parish as vice-president, Tim Seller as secretary and Sue Carey as treasurer.

Edwin Kirbort, executive secretary of the YMCA, led the meeting. Movies and cartoons were shown, a folk dance was taught, games were played and several stunts enjoyed. Adult guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kendall, Mrs.

Robert Fitzgerald and Mrs. Richard McKay.

Robert McKay collect dues as they have done in the past, the refreshment committee chose to make sandwiches and sell them and to charge for the pop. Patsy Nyberg, Ellen King, Elaine Palmer and Sue Carey carried out the experiment. The decision as to which method they found the more satisfactory will be announced before their next meeting Dec. 2.

Ruehle, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Jack DuVall for the holiday. Mrs. DuVall is Shank's mother.

A family gathering of 35 relatives will be attended by Mr. and Mrs. John K. Woodman and Janet and Mrs. John J. Woodman at the Dean S. Meier home in Byron.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sints will have Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Vaughan and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Foley as guests for Thanksgiving.

Terry, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Unsworth, had a birthday party Saturday afternoon celebrating his fifth birthday. Little friends attending the party were Jill Karuso, Clifford Williams, Diana Madden, Larry Sundstrom, Susan Parkins, Henry Wildeman, Carol LaMotte, Sharon and Randy McKay.
