Delayed Birthday
Bill Warner was eight years old in August but due to the weather his mother suggested he postpone a party until it became a little cooler. Well, Bill thinks that was a "super" idea because last Saturday his mother and dad took a group of his buddies to the rodeo at the State Fair. Henry Bowes, Bob Hoover, Stevie Hall, Dale Hanger and Bill's two sisters, Betsy and Lucy, all piled into the station wagon with Bill and were off to the nicest birthday party Bill's had so far.

Double Celebration
Saturday evening the Peters home on Arlington was the scene of a double celebration. Grandmother Regina Shady's 82nd birthday, and a housewarming for the Peters. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. G. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Green and son and daughter Steven and Anne. Mrs. Shady makes her home in Detroit.

Happy Birthday
Mrs. Eugenia Matthews, 31920 Auburn Circle, gave a dinner in honor of her son-in-law's birthday. Tom Becker and his wife Barbara and daughter Cheryl make their home with Mrs. Matthews. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Becker and daughter Peggy, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Becker and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Becker also were present.

Sewing Circle Meets
Grace Wagner was hostess to the Neighborhood Sewing Circle Wednesday evening. Those present included Imogene Bungee, Mrs. J. Williams, Betty Hall, Peggy Befadle, Irene Anderson and Isabelle Danville. Isabelle Danville will have the next meeting at her home.

School Days
We have heard of several children who are just starting in school this year and others who are making their first trip away to college. Some of our little five-year-olds who are starting in kindergarten are Barry, Nestle, Pamela Tuohy, Denise Southard, Mitchell Ladd, and Dale Bungee. Evelyn Horn, Ginny Schaffer and Cynthia Hadley are all leaving this weekend for Michigan State. Jim Patterson is attending the General Motors Institute.

Jim Laidig is no doubt by this time settled in Mt. Vernon, Iowa, at Cornell College. He is taking a liberal arts course this year. Cornell is a well known name in the Laidig family as that is where Jim's dad received his degree. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Laidig made the trip with Jim and returned to their home at 1829 Birwood on Tuesday.

Indiana Visitors
Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKee, 17166 Beechwood, had their Hoosier Club in for dinner Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Grover, Mr. and Mrs. H. Foley, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Michel and Mr. and Mrs. Glen All came from Green Castle, Ind. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Brenner also attended. The guests and hostess were all school chums and friends of long standing and get together regularly to renew acquaintances and talk over the good old times.

Company Picnic
The Berkshire Estates Association had its annual picnic on Saturday at Howard Keating's real estate office on Lasher.

Farewell Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson gave a farewell dinner party Sunday evening for Gunnar Amundson who left for Purdue on Monday and Frank Narr who left for Texas College. Gunnar who is from Norway has been visiting his cousins, the Nelsons, for the past three weeks before going on to school.

Open House
The Coronation hall sponsored by the Dars Sorority was held at the Forest Hills Country Club Friday. Jane Woodhouse held open house for the girls before the dance at her home on Amherst. Their escorts met them at Jane's house and continued on to the ball. Those attending from Beverly Hills were Evelyn Horn, Cynthia Hadley, Ginny Schaffer, Jane and CoCo Woodhouse, Jim Laidig, Jim Patterson, George Allen and Ken Babcock.

Newcomers
Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Brewer have now joined us and are in their new home on Arlington. They have moved from Detroit. Brewer is with the National Biscuit Co. and Mrs. Brewer is in the physical education department of the Detroit schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Krona moved into their new home a week ago yesterday. They built on Sheridan near Beverly road. Roger, their two-year-old son, acquired a new little puppy to help make the change more enjoyable. Ed is a heating engineer.

Bridge Club
Bill Collins took his turn at entertaining the Men's Seven-handed Bridge club last Monday. Those present were Al Jolderman, Jack Perkins, George Ladd, Al Lafoon, Jim Kelly and Ken Hoover.

Fall Picnics
Barbecues, roasts and picnics are being squeezed into every possible evening as the days grow shorter and winter creeps up to put an end to this outdoor fun. Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Rouse, 4137 Arlington, attended a barbecue Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kaiser at Adams road. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hanke were co-hosts. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simonds, Mr. and Mrs. Frances Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. Nick Baker were the other guests.

On Sunday evening the Frank Egnas, who live on Arlington grabbed the chance to use their new grill at least once more. They had Mr. and Mrs. Harry Menard and Mary Ellen and Jack Mead over for a steak roast.

Attend Show
This afternoon will find at least four neighbors doing their bit to help the St. Elizabeth Home for the Aged. A bridge and fashion show will be held at the Bloomfield Hills Open Hunt Club and Mrs. E. T. Sutton. Mrs. George Nelson, Mrs. N. S. Hadley and Mrs. P. L. Ledwidge will make a foursome for bridge.

Hear Speaker
Several local ladies were at the Community House Monday afternoon to hear the Rev. Ralph B. Barton speak on "The Up-To-Date Catholic Woman", at the Altar Society. St. Catherine Guild served tea in the Ruth Shain room after the meeting. Those who attended from our section were Mrs. Carl Hesse, Mrs. George Nelson, Mrs. T. Hicks, Mrs. Seibert, Mrs. J. Kelly, Mrs. Arthur LaFave.

Local Visitors
Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Hoover, 15950 Beverly, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Curtis and Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Hoover of Fort Huron at lunch on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. A. Lafoon, 32251 Arlington, had as their guests on Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Al Jolderman and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoover.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Riley and Parma and Robert feel they have returned from one of the nicest vacation trips that they have ever made. For three weeks they toured the east, stopping at such historic spots as Gettysburg, Williamsburg and Atlantic City. They spent five days by the ocean at Myrtle Beach, S. C. and were there during the tail end of the hurricane. They motored back through the Smoky Mts. and stopped off for a couple of days at their cottage in Ohio. They just made it back to 4145 Arlington in time for the first day of school.

Vacationers Return
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Naylon are once more back at 32338 Sheridan after a trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo. John, Ginny and Carolyn went along to keep mama and daddy company.

Art and Mary Lafoon, the Arlington wanderers, are home again and off again. Last week they returned from Maxwellton Braes at Bailey Harbor, Wis., after spending a week enjoying grand golf, superb food, marvelous swimming in Lake Michigan, by way of the ferry to Ludington. They were the guests of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob E. Davis while at Maxwellton Braes. They will leave Friday to visit Mary's mother, Mrs. C. W. Watkins in Waverly, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith returned to their home on Arlington after a two weeks tour of Northern Michigan. Mrs. N. S. Hadley and family returned from their summer home at Metamora last weekend to their home on Warwick. Cynthia will leave for Michigan State this week and her brother, Victor, will study at Wayne this year.

A Rotisserie
Have you ever seen a rotisserie in action? Well, now is your chance for the Mele Robb over there at 18378 Bedford have one and are enthused with their success in its operation. Since they returned from Sand Point, where they received "it", the Robbs have had all dinners cooked on the spit. Spars ribs, chickens, hamburgs, steaks roasts, and their last try, shish-ka-bobs and report all were simply mouth watering. Mrs. Robb's parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Alger from Saginaw have been visiting them and they have been entertaining at great lengths just to try something else.
