AAUW Completing Vows are Solemnized in Book Sale Plans

Birmingham members of the AAUW announce again the dates of their 22nd book sale as Oct. 17 to 22. As in the past years, the sale is to be held at the Detroit Edison Company.
The institution began for the purpose of selling used books, records and magazines, the proceeds to be used for the International scholarship fund and other similar projects. The organization sold over 4,000 books and after the sale of various categories of articles, netted $800. Selling patterns were especially popular with the mothers while many a boy and girl collected adventuresome reading well as adding to their libraries of hobby study.
For the last two years the chapter assisted a girl from Clawson to continue her study of music at Capital University, Birmingham is very proud of the Ruth Shain International Scholarship which will bring a girl from a foreign country to study. The chapter hopes that a girl will win this Michigan university for study. There are six scholarships this year in the state for foreign students and at the present time there are two in Ann Arbor, one girl from Panama and the other from Japan.
