Mr. and Mrs. Ross Heald
Will Reside in Boston

Following their marriage Saturday at five o'clock in St. Dunstan's Chapel at Christ Church Cranbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Loring Heald left on a motor trip through the Smokies and back up to Boston where they will make their home. The former Marianne Nethercot is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David G. Nethercot of Puritan road and Mr. and Mrs. Philip C. Hoidal of Wilton, N. H., are the bridegroom's parents. The Rev. George D. Clark officiated at the rites which were followed by a reception in the Nethercot residence.

Ivory satin, blended with heirloom lace was fashioned in the French court design for the bride's gown. The closely fitted bodice was styled with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves which tapered over her wrists with insertions of rose points. A deep border of the same lace formed a poplin at her waist and the soft folds of the bouffant skirt swept into a circular train from a scalloped panel at front which was also high lighted with medallions of lac roses. A princess cap of lace held in place her tiered veil of imported illusion and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

The attendants, Miss Marjorie Leigh of Short Hills, N. Y., maid of honor and Miss Jane Breitenstein of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. David Chase Nethercot of Grand Rapids, bridesmaids and Miss Julia Nethercot, a sister of the bride, junior bridesmaid were in deep rose taffeta dresses. The brides were cut with shoulder caplets of accordion pleats and the brides were repeated in tiers on their full skirts. They were wreathed of ivory in hair and carried bouquets of Fuji chrysanthemums.

Serving as best man was George Barnes of Anniston, Ala., and ushering the guests were David Chase Nethercot of Grand Rapids, Jeremy Taylor of Long Island, N. Y., and Charles McArthur, Jr., of Chicago, Ill.

Announce Flower Show School Dates

For all those interested in the Flower Show, the group formerly called the Judging school, the Lansing Flower Show school committee is presenting Course 1 of the National Council of State Garden Clubs on Sept. 22, 23 and 24 in the Lansing Technical high school, 419 North Capitol, Lansing.

This is the beginners' course and is under the direction of Mrs. Maude Jacobs of South Carrollton, Ky., who is a well known horticulturalist, and Mrs. Dorothy Biddle of Pleasantville, N. Y., who will talk on flower arrangements and judging.

Course 2 for those who have completed the others, will be held in Grand Rapids on Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Aaron Webster, 1025 Fairfax, who is recording secretary for the Michigan division of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association and who has recently been elected a member of the national board of directors.

Mrs. William McCallum, president of the Birmingham Horticultural Club, will entertain her board members at a luncheon in the Ruth Shain room of the McArthur House on Monday, Sept. 26.
