Vows Are Solemnized in Christ Church Cranbrook

Following their marriage last Thursday evening in Christ Church Cranbrook, Mr. and Mrs. John Mills Averill left on a wedding trip to northern Michigan. For traveling, Mrs. Averill, the former Shirley Louise Chambers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan C. Chambers of Royal Oak, selected a Glen plaid suit with a green cloche hat, matching finger gloves and a brown purse and gloves. Mr. Averill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Averill of Riveroak avenue. The Rev. Lawrence W. Pearson officiated at the rites.

Mrs. John M. Averill

Carrying a sheath of white Easter lilies, the bride was escorted to the flower bank altar by her father. Her gown of white silk faille was tailored with short capulet sleeves, a full length buttoned bodice and a high-standing collar-curved collar. A pert, butterfly bustle which tapered off into a full length cathedral train highlighted the bouffant skirt and her three-tiered veil of illusion fell from a crest of white lilies.

The attendants' gowns were made of sea mist green satin finished bodice and a high-standing full length cathedral train illuminated with draped necklines and the draped skirts with beaded arrangements. Their hats were matching cloches and they wore gloves and ballet slippers of sea mist green satin.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Howard J. McCarty of Royal Oak, a sister of the bride, carried bronze fujii mums surrounded by deep bronze pompons and mahogany mums in a sheath arrangement. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Robert W. Kellogg, Jr. of St. Clair Shores and Mrs. Donald P. Babson of Cambridge, Mass., a sister of the bridegroom carried sheaths of bronze fujii mums, deep bronze pompons and gold mums.

George W. Averill served his brother as best man and ushering the guests to their places were Charles Lyle of Birmingham; Robert W. Kellogg, Jr. of St. Clair Shores; James H. Herbst of Berkeley, Charles H. Bay of Bloomfield Hills; Paul G. Dunn of Detroit and G. Robert Brady of Bloomfield Hills.

For her daughter's wedding and reception which followed at the

The Line Is Busy

BY DORIS E. KUS

One of the matters most avidly discussed by the Coffee Klatch Gals (an "exclusive" club which meets over a morning cuppa dark water) is fall clothes. There is only one thing which better gives us a lift than talking about ensembles and that's purchasing them.

The other morning while it clouded and unclouded and the results were a rather dramatic forewarning of the real fall days ahead, we all tried to think up something insulating with which to retaliate to a recent wild, many protest made in the office. The complaint was deeply concerned with the large pockets now fashionable. "Why," the indignant man roared, "a woman'll have to walk through a door sideways with those things!"

Now really, it is more or less a hopeless thing to quibble with men about your clothes. They'll never be satisfied. It's first important that we ourselves be satisfied, for sooner or later the grumbling gets to become accustomed to the new fashions and quiet down (until the next mode and fall only) of course.

As to the matter of those oversized pockets, I for one am very happy about it. Now some of the load can be alleviated in regards to the pocketbook which we purse into a drawer and drop the necessary "breakfast" change into one of the those mammoth pockets, slide in a lipstick and if heading out on a little longer trip, just add a small comb and you're all set.

You'd think those guys would realize what a break such monstrous pockets really are. Isn't one of our pet peeves the fact that their dates often slip a few cosmetic gadgets into their suit coats and trip gaily along, unencumbered with even a bag? Don't those joes see now that there's no excuse for such going on and the gal will handle her own battle equipment from this day forward? And still they yell!

It all goes to show you. They just can't be pleased—but only because they have more fun not being pleased. With short skirts there were the inevitable wisecracks regarding one's ankles or legs. Came the long skirts and oh my gosh they just couldn't see a darned thing! Low necklines lifted eyebrows; high necklines encouraged such comments as "neck-puts" to float about. And now it's large pockets!

The point of the matter is this. At least the lady look. At least it gives them something to joke about. And frankly, most of us would rather have 'em laughing than not even looking or caring what our apparel is.
