HE SUFFERED severe lacerations and head injuries. The Pointe-boy was hospitalized, suffering from shock and a broken arm. Services were held for Lt. Brown from Christ Church Cranbrook Sunday afternoon, in charge of the Bell funeral home, with burial in White Chapel.

He was born in Birmingham 26 years ago and attended the local schools after which he enrolled at the University of Detroit for one year.

In 1942 he enlisted in the Navy at Annapolis and was stationed on the USS Anstetam, an Essex type carrier. He was then transferred to NAS Pensacola, Fla., where he took basic flight training. He reported to Cambria Field last November.

From August to November of that year he was stationed on the USS Anstetam, an Essex type carrier. He was then transferred to NAS Pensacola, Fla., where he took basic flight training. He reported to Cambria Field last November.

Lt. Brown is survived by his parents, a brother, Kingsley M. Brown, Jr., one sister, Jean Carolyn, and his grandmother, Mrs. Carolyn Mambert, all of Birmingham.

Services for Mr. Pardee were held from the Bell funeral home yesterday afternoon.

He was born in Detroit on Dec. 29, 1910, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Pardee. The family moved to Birmingham while he was quite young and he attended local schools, later going to Western Military academy at Alton, Ill.

During the war he served as a lieutenant in the military police and was overseas for two and a half years. He was a member of the Reserve Officers Corp.

On April 6, 1943, he married Florence Brennan, who was stationed in England. She survives with three children, Jeffrey Clark, Jack II, Jr., and James.

OTHER SURVIVORS, besides a parents, are a brother, Clark, Jr., and sister, Judith. Burial was in White Chapel cemetery.

The Gullett boy is survived by his step-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Gullett, father, Wilburn C. Gullett of Detroit. Services were held from the Parsley funeral home in Pontiac.

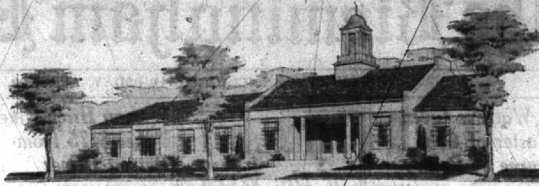

Albion A Cappella Choir Sings Sunday at Cranbrook Church
The a cappella choir of Albion college, directed by David Strickler, will be heard Sunday afternoon at Christ Church Cranbrook, beginning at 4 o'clock. The group, noted for its outstanding presentations of choral literature, is now in its 17th season.

At its local appearance, the choir will offer a four-part program of varied and colorful selections, ranging from the works of 18th century composers to Negro spirituals. The featured soloist will be Jane Blanchard, young contralto from Detroit and a senior at Albion.

took a long step toward improved county government.

"I am wholeheartedly for it," she said, "although that does not necessarily mean that I endorse everything in it."

Mrs. Lewis directed attention to the fact that 10 of the important recommendations in the survey cannot be carried out under existing statutory and constitutional provisions.

THE SAME NOTE was sounded by Hudson, who has served on many important committees of the supervisors in his 20 years on the board. He said that the changes in county government he would most like to discuss were not within the range of the discussion since they required changes of existing laws and amendments to the state constitution.

However, he said, "I do believe in the objectives of the survey and think that many of its specific recommendations can be carried forward."

He said, while going along on the establishment of an administrative code, does not favor more authority or administrative responsibility for the board of auditors. "Leave it alone," he said. Nor did he make favorable comment on the survey as a whole.

Organization Meeting Monday to Arrange Softball Schedules

Walter Morgan, chairman of the Birmingham YMCA physical education committee, has called a meeting for Monday, April 24 in the "Y" offices at 144 West Maple, to organize a softball league for Birmingham.

Invitations to attend are extended to any group or individual interested in playing softball this summer.

It is the hope of the committee that a six-team league can be formed to play each Monday and Thursday starting in May and terminating in late July.

THE MEETING Monday is called for 7:30 p.m. An interpretation of the new rule changes will be given by Morgan.

Enrollment Open for Sewing Class

Enrollment still is open in the sewing and dressmaking class at the Community House, reminds Mrs. Thomas L. Woodworth, instructor.

Convening each Tuesday at 1 p.m. for eight weeks, the class began this week.

"No matter what stage your sewing is in," stated Mrs. Woodworth, "you are welcome. We have

This & That

We also pass many laws, favoring certain groups, in order to get and keep their votes.

Take our labor laws over the past 15 years. They are rigged in favor of unionism and labor leaders.

Why? Not because we in Congress do not know the difference between right and wrong, between fairness and unfairness, between equity and inequity.

But simply because we have found that the way to get into office and remain there, is to play to the selfishness and prejudices of the masses of people—they vote for us because we do things for them—even though, finally, what we do almost wrecks our traditional concepts of individual freedom.

Honestly, Mr. Editor, it is fairly easy for us public officials to fool the people in matters affecting their whole lives.

THE PEOPLE PAY so little attention to government's problems, to what is correct economically, internationally, etc., that it isn't so hard to keep them confused. Not that I approve all this, Mr. Editor. In the beginning of my letter I told you that when I first entered politics I wanted to do with the good and lasting for the people. But the years have gone on, and I suppose I have changed with the times. That's only human nature, I guess—but even the hardest granite can be worn away by drops of water.

And I think that is what has happened to much of the basic civic character of our people. We fight wars against foreign enemies—yet lose much of our freedom right at home.

I've written this letter to you, not as an alibi, but just to let you and your readers know why public officials often do what they do. If you want any more of my ideas, I'll try to find time to get them to you.

Yours truly,
"Defender of the People."
