Elizabeth Durham Becomes Bride of Hugh R. Mack Jr.,

The Rev. Robert L. DeWitt officiated at the nuptials which united Miss Elizabeth Anne Durham and Hugh R. Mack Jr. in Christ Church Cranbrook Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ballinger Durham of Northeast road are the parents of the bride and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Ross Mack of Lake Park drive.

Miss Durham wore a light blue tulle gown for her marriage. The dress was cut with an off-shoulder neckline and net illusion yoke, long traditionally pointed sleeves, and a bouffant skirt which swept into a full train. A net illusion cloche held her three-tiered veil of cathedral length and she carried a rose point lace handkerchief belonging to the bridegroom's mother with her bouquet of stephanotis and white ivy which was centered with a white orchid.

Her attendants, Mrs. James R. Longwell, Jr., Mrs. Frederick C. Matthaei, Jr., Mrs. George E. Baldwin, Jr., Mrs. G. Arthur Brown, Jr., and the Misses Grace and Helen Mack, were in sea green nylon net ensembles fashioned with soft, shirred necklines and full, gathered skirts.

MISS NANCY MacQUEEN, as honor maid, carried yellow daisies and green ivy while the bridesmaids wore white dresses with green ivy.

George E. Baldwin, Jr., served as best man and seating the guests were Robert Huber, Edwin Covey, James Longwell, Jr., Lee Durham, Jr., Gene McCullough and Emory Lovett, Jr.

For the wedding and reception which followed in the Detroit Golf Club Mrs. Durham selected a bright blue chiffon and lace gown with a chiffon hat and a purple orchid corsage, while Mrs. Mack was dressed in grey chivalry lace.

over chiffon, and pinned green orchids to her purse.

As the couple left for a wedding trip to Florida and Havana, Cuba, the new Mrs. Mack was wearing a navy gabardine suit with white accessories.

Upon their return they will make their home at 730 Knox.
