Couple Married In Early Morning Rites August 12

Miss Elley M. Bruno of Birmingham and Dearborn, daughter of Mrs. Frances Bruno of Dearborn, became the bride of Armando A. Posa in an early morning ceremony read at St. Barbara's church, Dearborn on August 12. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Serafino Posa of Detroit.

MRS. ARMANDO POSA

The bride's white satin gown was fashioned in a ballerina length, with lace bordering the hemline and a strand of pearls accenting the illusion boat neckline.

FROM A HEADRESS of net and pearls, fell her finger-tip veil which was trimmed with accordion pleating, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white gladioli contrasted with a purple orchid.

Miss Louise Bruno attended her sister as maid of honor. Her gown was white over yellow organdy with a yellow waist band and white picture hat. She carried a colonial arrangement of red roses. Victor Pizzo of Dearborn served as best man.

FOR THE WEDDING and breakfast reception in the home of the bridegroom, the bride's mother selected an aqua crepe dress with matching hat and white

Secontine-Keller Nuptials Solemnized in Pennsylvania

In an eight o'clock evening ceremony at Old St. David's church in Ardmore, Pa., last Friday, Miss Patricia Rose Keller became the bride of Vincent Charles Secontine, Jr., of Birmingham and Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howell Tyson of Ardmore are the bride's aunt and uncle and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent C. Secontine of Detroit.

The Rev. Harold E. Towne of St. James Episcopal church in Birmingham officiated in the candlelight service before an altar backed by Easter lilies and mariposa foliage with tall white tapers in each window.

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE by her uncle, the bride was gowned in white organdy, fashioned with long sleeves and a tightly fitted bodice, on which the small self-covered buttons extended from the Peggy collar to the waist.

The full skirt was deeply embroidered in delicate shades of yellow. From her cap of white organdy, fell the French illusion finger-tip veil which was held in place by a band of orange blossoms. She carried white butterfly orchids and stephanotis on a prayer book.

A COUSIN of the bride, Mrs. George Stierle of Billings, Mont., attended Miss Keller as matron of honor. Her ballerina length frock was of white organdy with a yellow velvet sash and velvet accessories. She wore a bandeau of white daisies and a veil which was held in place by a band of orange blossoms. She carried white butterfly orchids and stephanotis on a prayer book.

Richard Lander of Ardmore served the bridegroom as best man. Following the wedding, a family reception was held at the bride's home.

FOR HER NIECE'S wedding Mrs. Tyson chose a navy blue organdy frock with navy velvet accessories and white and fuchsia orchid corsage, while the bridegroom's mother selected a light carnation corsage. Mrs. Posa, the bridegroom's mother, chose a black marquisette frock with matching accessories and white carnation corsage.

The young Mr. and Mrs. Posa, who were both employed in Birmingham, will make their home in Dearborn.

MRS. V. C. SECONTINE, JR.
blue dress with rose colored hat and accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Before leaving on a motor trip through New York and Canada, the new Mrs. Secontine donned a light blue suit with navy velvet accessories.

The couple will make their home in Birmingham upon their return.
