Last Rites Today For Albert Stoll, Wildlife Editor

Albert Stoll, Jr., 66, wildlife editor of the Detroit News, died at his home at 691 Bloomfield court Monday after an illness of about three years.

Services will be at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the Bell funeral home with cremation and burial at Evergreen cemetery. The Rev. Dr. W. Glen Harris will officiate.

Mr. Stoll became associated with the News in 1918 and became a leader in Michigan's conservation program. For the past three years he has been confined to his home by illness, continuing his writing from there until a year ago.

YOUR MOST THOUGHTFUL GIFTS...

Christmas Letters from You

Your letters mean so much to those you love — and to friends in far away places. Don't let this Christmas slip by without writing to them.

Choose from our large and beautifully boxed collection of Eaton's fine Letter Papers, a style that reflects your good taste and personality... that reminds them of you.

Remember, too, that Eaton's fine Letter Papers are a good gift for anyone at anytime — especially of Christmas.
