Mrs. C. A. NELSON

DECEMBER 1950

The time has come when once again we sing "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men," This ageless proverb repeats each year and hopes to bring, within our homes a tangible on which to cling.

a tangible on which to cling.
What make you say: "What, is the use to look ahead, there is no future and what we see, we dread,"
What right have you to drop the torch?
A million strong have carried on thru far bitter days than these, that you felter from their strife for peace!

The nucleus bf all that's good has gone before and has withstood
all wars and trials of ageing time.
What makes and the strife reduce your need,
locally a strife reduce your need,
for "Peace on Earth," and good will deed?

ynically you cast your lot with thee and me and neither keep nor plot, to save the Freedom so nobly won-thru years of tears, strain and sweat; the job complete they carried on to other tasks that should be done.

To accept your fate and life as is is well for you—but shame is his who will not strive for better things. I humbly pray you! find a way to gain new faith in God and man and once again hold on high a hope of "Peace on Earth" before you die ieak not the word of fear; let it lie within you if it must, until all things have turned to dust; sen no simple minded one can grasp a moment of despair, to turn it into worldly flare.

This I ask of you, for your children and their children, too, and as was done for us—Hold fast! and cherish long! the ideals of this our land of which you, too, belong.

By so doing you'll pass on the torch that burned so bright that dayk December night, to hands stronger—younger than your own but within whose heart has grown the same desire for "Peace on Earth, Good will to men."

An Old Wish - - For A New Year

If you have ships upon the seas, May every friendly wave and bre Return full-freighted argosies.

If you have caravans afar,
May they—beneath a lucky star—
Bring back their wealth to where you are.

But if the treasure that you hold is not of frankincense and gold, If all your stores of precious thing Are cherished dreams and visionings Hopes long deferred and kept apart Dear inner secrets of the heart,

> Then may the New Year bring to you, Like homing ships across the blue. Each wish fulfilled—each dream come true.
