

Couple To Reside In Kansas City Following Rites

At an informal wedding on Friday, July 21, Miss Letha Alyne Bollweiler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Bollweiler of Kansas City, Mo., became the bride of John Frederick Zoellin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zoellin of Pleasant drive, Dr. R. Park Johnson officiated in the eight o'clock evening ceremony at the Second Presbyterian church in Kansas City, Mo.

THE BRIDE'S ankle-length gown was fashioned of embroidered organza with a portrait neckline and her lace mitts matched the face coronet headpiece from which fell her illusion veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and tuber roses.

As her maid of honor and only attendant, Miss Dorothy Cook of Kansas City, Mo., was gowned in pink organza and she carried an arrangement of pink roses.

Lou Hagopian of Birmingham and Kansas City served as best man and Gordon Saudker of Kansas City acted as the groom.

FOR HER DAUGHTER'S wedding and following informal reception, held at the Hollenbeck home in Mission, Kansas, Mrs. Bollweiler chose a navy blue frock with a small matching straw hat and corsage of flame-colored gladioli. Mrs. Zoellin was also gowned in navy blue with matching straw and velvet hat and flame gladioli corsage.

The young couple will make their home in Kansas City, Mo.

New Photo Society Plans Screen Tests Sunday Morning

The newly formed Centerparaphotographic Society will hold its first public screen tests Sunday morning at 10 in the Cranbrook stadium.

Some 50 actors and actresses are already signed to appear before the 15 motion picture cameras, while others may also be considered.

Bill Hart, chairman of publicity and promotion, said this would be primarily a "get acquainted" meeting and urged all interested persons to attend.

The organization is the first of its kind in Michigan," he said. "It has been formed to fill the needs of amateur and professional cine enthusiasts who want to put their cine talents and cameras to work."

HARVEY CROZE, Cranbrook camera man, heads the motion picture division. This group will film documentary, dramatic and musical comedy productions, using amateur talent.

Others in the cinema division are Gregor Alick, vice-president; Marion Austin, treasurer; and Gloria McCaslin, secretary. Ed Ratty, Charles Chubbuck, Ken Cole, Teddy Davis, William Ruppert and Burt Schleicher are on the board of directors.

Southfield To Issue Call For Special Township Meeting

The Southfield Township board will issue a call for a special township meeting to be held within the next 20 days to discuss the prospects of erecting additional fire stations.

The meeting will be called as a result of a petition signed by 75 residents of the township requesting the action, which was submitted to the board Tuesday evening.

Some board members felt it would be better to have discussions among the various groups in the township instead of discussing a special meeting, but according to state law, if 12 citizens sign

Return From Month's Tour Through West

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Williams of Southlawn boulevard have returned this week from a 1000-mile trip throughout the west, which even included an eight-mile mule-trail down into the Grand Canyon.

The Williams' camped out during 17 nights of the 31 days they were traveling, pitching their tent in some of the national parks. Their itinerary included many sight-seeing tours to Indian reservations and famous fishing locations.

Though the days were packed with scheduled tours and trips which had been planned out by Mrs. Williams last winter, the couple managed to spend a few days visiting the E. H. Fletcher family in Hope Ranch Park, Cal., formerly of Birmingham.

Following their visit, Mr. and Mrs. Williams drove to Lake Tahoe and San Francisco and then routed themselves up the coast-line to Oregon, Victoria and Vancouver and down again to Mount Ranier and on for a swim at Salt Lake City.

They also spent some time on the Columbia river and while in Oregon, met a bus load of 29 girls from Ann Arbor, on a six-week tour directed by Mr. Pennington.

AMMO CARRIERS—A U. S. Army team is shown slogging through rice paddies with machine-gun ammunition for embattled front-line forces. To date, many reverses suffered at the hands of the armored North Koreans have been due to a shortage of ammunition, the lifeblood of artillery and small weapons units.

"Heaven Can Wait" To Open August 1

Opening next Tuesday evening, August 1, for a two-week engagement at the Will-O-Way playhouse is that highly amusing comedy-fantasy by Harry Segall, "Heaven Can Wait," from which the motion picture, "Here Comes Mr. Jordan," was adapted.

This is the story of a fantastic celestial situation in which the hero, a saxophone-playing prize fighter named Joe Pendleton (Gerald M. Harrington) should have been killed in a plane crash but such was not the case because his time was not yet up.

HOWEVER through over-carelessness on the part of Messenger 2013 (Robert Bryson) he is almost called upon to trade his saxophone for a harp and becomes the complicated task of the "boss man," Mr. Jordan (Nick Beachard) to get him back to earth in one "shape" or another.

The complications arising from the fact that Joe's body has been created by his fight manager, Max Neveve (Barney O'Rourke) create a series of hilarious situations and dialogue.

IT TAKES a cast of nearly 24 of your Will-O-Way favorites and several newcomers, directed by Bill Merrill, to iron out all the problems faced by a man who has lost that all-important thing in life—his earthly body.

The evil plotters, Julia Farnsworth and Tony Abbott will be portrayed by Betty Gould and Tom deGratzenried; the love interest, Bette Logan by Martha Craig; Mrs. Ames by Dolores Rashid and Williams by John Beeman.

ALSO appearing in the cast will be Milton Todd, a doctor; Dianne Barry as Susie; Rufus Dean in the part of Lefty; Bob Jones as first escort; Max Cornell as the first workman; and Kent deGratzenried as the second workman.

The Will-O-Way box office is now open from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. For phone reservations and information concerning productions, "Heaven Can Wait" will run nightly (except Mondays) with Saturday matinee, through August 13.

A petition requesting a meeting, one must be called.

The law states that the meeting be held within 20 days after the petition is acted upon by the board. A motion was passed stipulating that the meeting will take place either Aug. 10, 11, 12 or 14, depending on the availability of a building.
