HORSE SENSE AND NONSENSE

MOSTLY NONSENSE

There's something about the summer that I really like. Maybe it's because the weather just never suits me and I have an excellent opportunity to gripe. Furthermore, I have supporters.

Another thing about summer is I'm always fairly sure I won't find a frozen radiator on my car some morning. The thing might soil now and then, but that's always a good excuse to stop and just sit for an hour or so while it cools off.

Then, too, there is the question of hats. All winter long I listen to advice from those people who wear hats. I should, too. If I don't I'll get fallen arches or some equally horrible fate will await me.

DURING THE summer months I have conservative freedom from this. A few do say it will help keep the sun off my head. This usually comes to me a few minutes after I have made some statement that leads the public to believe I have already had too much sun.

In the summer there is always the chance to sit in the yard or on the porch, too. That works out fine until some energetic little insect spies me and with a cry of "Fresh meat!" brings all his pals and relatives over.

It's awfully comforting to know

Bride's Father Officiates for Mead-Lloyd Wedding

In a ceremony read by her father, the Rev. J. Hubard Lloyd, with her brother, the Rev. Barton M. Lloyd assisting, Miss Katherine Baldwin Lloyd became the bride of the Rev. William Henry Mead of Birmingham last Saturday evening in Westover Church, Westover, Va.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. James Hubard Lloyd of Westover Church and he is the son of Mrs. Melvin Raymond Mead of Ann Arbor, formerly of Birmingham and the late Mrs. M. H. Mead. The bridegroom is a rector at Christ Church, Brook.

WEARING A WHITE swiss organdy gown, Miss Lloyd was given in marriage by her twin brother, Arthur Selden Lloyd. Her floor length dress with embroidered bodice, Queen Anne collar and long sleeves was encrusted with bands of embroidery. The pinks of the gown were accented by a long train.

The bride's finger tip veil fell from an organical petal edged with lilies of the valley and she wore a mother of pearl necklace which had been worn by the brides of the Myers family for five generations. She carried a basket of mixed white flowers.

MISS LOUISA BARTON LLOYD, a sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor, wearing a white swiss embroidered organdy ballerina frock. Her dress was worn blue taffeta and she wore a large blue sash with matching flowers in her hair. She carried a basket of mixed blue flowers.

A blue linen suit with white accessories was donned by the new Mrs. Mead for the wedding trip to Virginia Beach and Michigan. The couple will make their home in Bloomfield Hills after the first of August.

THESE OUT of the way, I really will settle down. But first I have to return a flock of calls which I haven't had time to do before. I scribble and dress up and go calling. No one is home.

Then there are a few places I want to go, shopping and the like. These finally behind me and the vacation week is half gone. NOW I will have fun.

It rains. It not only rains, it pours. I stay in and read books or start fussing with a few more odds and ends. This continues another day, and I'm bored to tears. The third day I'm practically biting myself. I want to go back to work.

Monday rolls around and back I go. The sky is a brilliant blue, there's the cool, refreshing wind that I lacked the week before. A couple of people I really want to see call me and say come on down.

THEY GOT the vacation dates lined up and were out of town the day I called.

Vacations are wonderful—except I have to go back to work to rest up after one.

Another nice thing about summer is that Christmas always seems so far away. There's plenty of time to begin thinking about three cards and gifts. No rush at all like there is the week before Christmas when sudden realization dawns with the arrival of the first card from Ann Dinkie.

All of these things make me just that summer. If one did not have to endure it, it would be the nicest season of the year.

Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wild of Roanoke road in Ferndale announce the engagement of their daughter, Joann Genevieve to George Mark Adams.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Adams of Brown street. No immediate wedding plans have been made.

AS FLOWER GIRL

The bridegroom's niece, tiny Margaret Wallace was gown'd in white organdy with a blue ribbon sash and carried a basket of rose petals.

The Rev. Robert DeWitt of Christ Church (Brookbrook) served as best man. The ushers were the bride's brothers, J. Hubard Lloyd

ADDING CHARM TO Your Home

By Bill Wisland

WISLAND'S SHELF CONSCIOUS

The current concept of home decoration is revolutionary. It frees us from a lot of old, outmoded ideas. It inspires us with confidence and determination to plan and furnish our homes to fit our particular mood, tastes and express our individuality and personality.

We no longer slavishly copy one period, but choose the furniture we like best of different periods and dramatize it with new fabrics and colors to create an atmosphere of originality and charm.

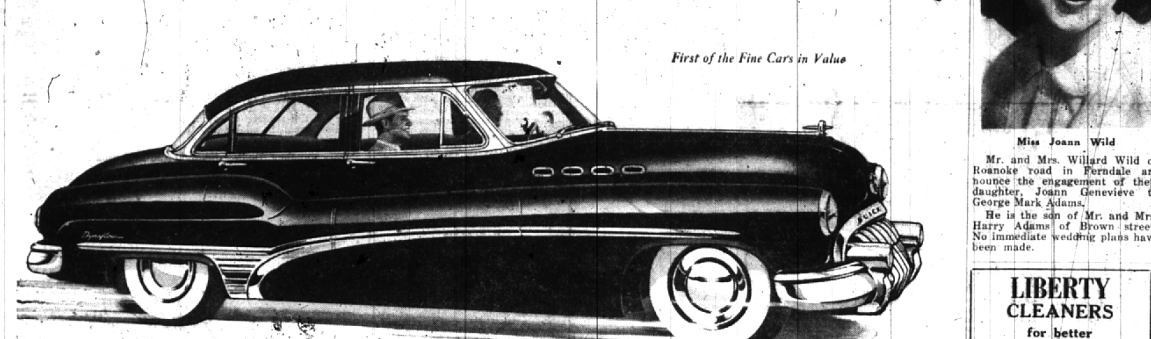

The new modern unit furniture offers unlimited possibilities for novel, space-saving arrangements.

In the modern room sketched above cabinet-chests flank television-radios.

Horizontal lines are restful, and bright book pockets add color richness. Blond wood stands out importantly against gray-turquoise walls and chocolate brown carpet. Rough-textured linen sofa upholstery has brown pattern chair to cyclorama pink.

This is just one suggestion for combining modern units. Come in and let us show you choice units that will be adaptable to your mode of living, and give your home up-to-the-minute smartness.

The Car that puts your Best Foot forward

WE think you'll agree that the whole story of an automobile isn't told in its power, its room, its styling, even in its ride.

There is the all-important point about what a car does to you—and that's where ROADMASTER really shines.

For you can't slip into this bonny beauty's broad seats without feeling like somebody pretty special.

When you take its neat wheel in your hand—when you cut loose, with a touch, the rich baritone of its big Fireball straight-eight power plant—when you feel the smooth surge of its Dynaflow-cushioned take-off—Man, then you know you've got a real automobile!

And don't overlook this: That graceful sweep of chrome along the fender—found on no other car made today—is a mighty eye-catching note of distinction.

Those four Ventiports, too, cause many a head to turn—they mark you unmistakably as the owner of the biggest and best Buick built—a car as fine and rich as any man has need for.

There are a lot of good, solid, dollars-and-cents reasons for making ROAD-

MASTER your choice over any other: Its size. The commanding performance of its 152-hp Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight engine. Dynaflow Drive standard. A ride that's quite matchless in its gentle softness. Distinguished styling from bold, protective front end to gleaming "double hubble" taillight.

But if you're ready for a car that's more than just an automobile—if you want one that puts your best foot forward in any company—that's the real reason for seeing your Buick dealer quickly—to talk turkey about a ROADMASTER.

FOUR-WAY FRONT

This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) shows on road tests—vertical rigidity is individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and gear-changing easier.
