you in order to face the tomorrow which lies ahead. "Just as in ocean travel, there will be times when you can see no evidence of progress unless you look to yesterday. "I had that experience on an ocean voyage. At the prow of the ship there was nothing but the expanse of the Atlantic and I could see nothing to indicate we were moving forward.

for the dial tone before beginning to dial.

"Also, there are still a few impatient customers who dial the black letter 'P' with the red figure '1', in dialing local Midwest telephone numbers.

"THIS DIFFICULTY will be quickly corrected by users who remember that all letters on their dial are black, and all figures are red.

Fischer also pointed out that once the user starts to dial a number, he should not hesitate, but should dial all digits in the number as rapidly as possible without forcing the dial wheel on its return.

Coincident with the change to dial, the Pontiac exchange was included in Birmingham's extended-area plan. Subscribers to that type of service will pay an increase in rates due to the addition of Pontiac 26,000 telephones to their local calling area.

This increase, which was approved previously by the Michigan Public Service Commission, will range from $1 to $1.50 a month for business subscribers who choose extended area service, while residential users will pay a 25 to 37-cent monthly increase.

THE ADDITION of Pontiac to Birmingham's extended-area plan brings the total number of telephones in that area to 26,000. Included in the plan, in addition to Pontiac, are Big Beaver, Mayfair, Royal Oak and Southfield.

"SUCCESS WILL mean the things you are able to do for God, for your fellowman and for yourselves."

Brooks closed his address with the admonition for the members of the class to take every advantage of their heritage of the past and apply that to the problems of the future, calling always upon the help of God to direct them.

State to Finance 25 Per Cent of Hunter Drives

City commissioners have directed City Manager Donald C. Egbert to negotiate a contract with the state highway department under terms of which the state would pay 25 per cent of the cost of constructing access drives on Hunter.

Property owners will pay 75 per cent of the cost under special assessment procedure. The city share of 25 per cent would be obtained from the money paid to the city by the state.

According to Egbert, four property owners are desirous of having the drives constructed in front of their properties as soon as possible.

THE SECTIONS to be improved first would be on the east side of Hunter between Worth and Hazel and Chestnut, and on the west side from Haynes to Bowers and in front of the Colonial terraces.

The state has earmarked $55,000 for this improvement, with $8,000 required for the first four sections. Egbert reminded cop-

City Names Three New Employees to Municipal Posts

Two new administrative employees have been added to the city payroll, Donald C. Egbert, city manager, revealed Monday.

Jack Walker began his duties June 12 as assistant to Barkley G. Omans, city building inspector. Walker has had experience in small homes and heavy construction work and is a graduate of Michigan State college where he studied housing and lumber merchandising.

Also on June 12, Gordon Olsen began his work as assistant to City Assessor Elmer Haack.

Olsen has a master's degree from Purdue and has had experience in municipal administration. He has worked on highway research projects, where aerial photographs were used to evaluate land values. He has also had one year in military government.

ON JULY 1, Dana Whitman, Jr., will begin his duties as administrative assistant in the office of City Manager Donald C. Egbert.

He received his B.A. degree from the University of Maine in 1948 and did post graduate work there the following year in student and public management. In 1949 he served in the office of the city manager of Bangor, Me., and last year did post graduate work on public administration at the University of Michigan.

A veteran of World War II, Whitman was graduated from U. of M. among the top men of his class. He has done research work for the bureau of government at the University of Michigan during the year.

Will Pick One Name For Street and Stick To It, City Decides

In the past you could call the city's southern boundary "Saxon," "Clawson" or "14 Mile road" and get away with it.

But effective immediately, no one at the city hall will know what you are talking about unless you refer to it as "14 Mile road."

So city commissioners decided Monday evening.

"BIRMINGHAM SHOULD decide on one name and stick to it, and 14 Mile appears to be the one which will best stand the test of time," recommended City Manager Donald C. Egbert.

He formed a committee to study the problem and will hold the following year in stu-
