

Many of the fears one may possess in his life ultimately prove to be without substance. Fear is a state of mind that feeds upon itself. Never fear... allow controlled concern to take its place.

June 12 Closing Set on Dog Show Entries

B. J. Johnston 30720 Lahner road, secretary of the Pontiac kennel club, said June 12 was the closing date for entries for that show. The show will be an un-benched, all-breed event.

E. W. Averill is chairman of the Pontiac Kennel club show committee, which also includes Mrs. Julia Gasow.

Don Dasher, 591 Ridgedale, will judge the obedience trial classes for the event June 24 at Wimer school, Pontiac.

ENTRIES FOR the Macomb county show also close at noon June 12. This event will be held at the Eagles hall, 8 Mile and Gratiot, Sunday, June 25.

Prizes are being offered by dog fanciers and business firms. Among them will be Dr. Fred Gasow, Maple Ridge Kennels and J. P. Hackett.

Birthdays, anniversaries, guests, births, parties are all news—all the society editor about them.

Bits of Birmingham

Residents who have been wondering about the addition of flourine to the city's water supply can relax. According to Dr. W. Lloyd Kemp and City Manager Donald Ebert, nothing will be done locally until it has been definitely proven valuable. Dr. Kemp is watching reports and tests from areas which have begun the use of flourine and will make whatever recommendations he deems best after he has had ample time to make a thorough study of them all.

John B. Taylor, 988 Madison, one of this country's great trout fishermen, likes to go to nearby Vnay lake and cast for bass. The other day he and his Wanderer were paddling about and casting, when we came upon the nest of a large white swan. The nest was located close to the water's edge, and was about five feet in diameter. Upon it was the papa swan, hatching yet the eggs, while Mrs. Swan was swimming about on the lake. "Thus," quoth Taylor, as he swept his arm grandiloquently in the direction of the paternal swan, "you see how the paternal instincts of the swan are used in the perpetual propagation of nature's most beautiful acutely propped residents of the ether—a lesson by the way, that all mankind, including President Truman, should take to heart, if the American way of life is to be preserved."

The 1950 issue of "The Pipar," yearbook of Baldwin high school, is now available.

One local taxpayer, still frugally minded regarding the increased local taxes, said the other day: "To be sure, collecting rubbish is a nice and accommodating service to us residents, but I wonder if it is necessary to make the collection every week. I so wonder when I observe the amount of rubbish set out by the people in my neighborhood really doesn't stack up to large quantities. Maybe a semi-monthly pickup would cost us less than the weekly service does."

Milton Berz, who owns and operates the local Berz Airport, has been offering tantalizing sums for the sale of his 150-acre plot east of East Maple. Since he acquired the land some years ago, the area has developed into industrial sites. But Milt, who believes the airplane has an even greater future for this area than most other suburban spots, is holding on to his investment in the land is better than stocks and bonds—especially in these dizzy days of frenzied finance.

Gives Dial Demonstrations

Mrs. Hazel Delbridge, Michigan Bell Telephone Company traffic department employee, conducts a dial demonstration for Barnum School students preparatory to the conversion of Birmingham's telephone system to dial operation a week from next Sunday.

Michigan Bell's Instruction Program Regarding Dialing Is Nearly Complete

Michigan Bell this week pointed toward the inauguration of dial telephone service here on June 18 with an announcement that its dial instruction program in the city's schools and service clubs was nearly complete.

The company assured its customers that the conversion to automatic telephones would be made with a minimum of inconvenience to users. To gain the most efficient service, however, it urged subscribers to observe some basic precautions to realize complete success of the conversion.

Walter B. Fausser, Michigan Bell manager, said, "This new system will be as foolproof as modern telephone engineering can make it, but the observance of a few simple rules in using it will contribute to the complete success of the new dial service."

Foremost in importance is getting the correct number from the new Birmingham directory. All of Birmingham's new numbers will bear a Midwest 4 prefix followed by four numerals.

will receive through the mails a booklet titled, "At the Turn of Your Dial," which offers helpful hints on using the new system.

The booklet warns against users confusing the black letter "I" with the red numeral "one," or mistaking the black letter "O" for the red "zero."

The new system is equipped with the latest telephone feature, automatic message accounting, which will allow Birmingham subscribers to dial Detroit and six nearby communities without the assistance of an operator.

THE AMA EQUIPMENT automatically records on paper tape calls needed to accurately render a telephone bill. The equipment can time calls without error to within 1/10th of a second.
