Supper and Bazaar

Arrangements are underway for

It was a cold job the morning of Nov. 9, as seven employees of the Michigan Bell Telephone company's local office took up their picket duties at the entrance of the new building, 160 Martin. It may have been the cold which broke up the picketing here, but the men did not return after going to lunch about 11 o'clock.
District Manager Walter Fausser said that because of the dial system here, Birmingham subscribers had experienced little trouble in carrying on their normal telephone business.
"About all it has done here," he said, "is to make installation orders difficult to handle. We explain the situation and find that our new customers are being very understanding." (Joe Wheeler Photo)
