

Newlyweds Reside In Birmingham

MRS. D. F. BOUFFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Boufford, who are now residing at 16239 Madoline drive in Birmingham, were married in a morning ceremony on October 14, read by the Rev. Joseph Howard at Guardian Agnes church in Detroit. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Boufford of Madoline drive. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Cecil Boufford as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were the bridegroom's sister, Miss Jean Boufford and Miss Emma Dehring of Detroit. Serving as best man was Robert Schmidt of Farmington and the ushers were James Burdick of Detroit and the bride's brother, Larry Boufford.

Senior Workshop Begins Activities At Community House

The Senior Workshop of the Birmingham Community House was established last Friday. This group will meet weekly, on Fridays, from 10:20 a.m. until 3 p.m. They bring their own lunches and enjoy the fellowship of the noon hour. The program is sponsored by the Junior League and the Birmingham Community House. For half of the period, those present will be working on some type of project for the pleasure of others. Last week they made birthday trays for one of the hospital. During the remainder of time, the Seniors will have an opportunity to be instructed in needlework.

AT THE MEETING this Friday, November 3, those present will be taught how to weave, in the future, silver work, ceramics, painting and whatever the members wish, will be instructed by volunteer teachers of the Birmingham area.

This group has grown out of the Senior Group from the Community House who have previously spent one evening a month playing cards together. Many of the members are parents who have moved to Birmingham to be near their young people. All men and women are invited by the program to join the Workshop on Friday and all Fridays at the Community House.

Schedule Newcomers Reception Nov. 9 At Community House

The 12th annual reception and open house for newcomers to Birmingham will be held at the Community House, 1000 North Third St., about 8:00 invitations have already been mailed, including nearly 1000 friends of the Community House. The general chairman is Mrs. Harry O. Macho of the Community House board. Mrs. William H. Miligan is in charge of the program. Mrs. J. Donald Bowers and her committee.

Batch room activities will be held during the evening under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. James F. McCoy. The group will also be given the opportunity to visit several of the adult education classes in session.

MAYOR BRUCE BOOTH will speak briefly to the visitors after which Mrs. Miligan will present a skit based on the activities of the Community House. A square dance demonstration will be given by the Reddards.

M.E.A. Group Visits Little Gallery Show

Peggy DaSalle's Little Gallery was visited last week by a group of approximately one hundred art teachers from the Detroit schools, belonging to the Art division of the Michigan Education Association. The group had been on a studio tour with visits to Tubingham's, Marshall Fredericks' and the final stop at Peggy DaSalle's, where they viewed her current California Show and then held a business meeting in the lower gallery.

The Little Gallery's group showing of 12 outstanding Southern California artists and craftsmen will run through the month of November. The display includes groups of drawings, serigraphs, abstractions and sculpture. The galleries, at 915 East Maple road, are open daily from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m., except Wednesdays.

Junior Committee Reviews Kingswood School Autumn Festival

Ann Ward, Jana Philipp, Julia Keydel and Jean Horrocks, committee members of the Kingswood School Cranbrook Autumn Festival, sponsored by the junior class on Saturday evening, review the success of their endeavors before joining the clean-up production feature of the evening.

The Kingswood School Cranbrook junior class production of "Dreamer's Holiday" was presented last Saturday evening, October 28, at the school auditorium. The show, written by three students, Ann Coulter, Beverly Watkins and Alice Kent, cast members of the class including the authors themselves in the musical, song, dance and variety acts.

JANE PHILIP was in charge of the production with Ann Fielding handling lights, Sally Lue at the curtain, Cynthia Copeland costumes, Sally Williams costumes, Marge Tomlinson, Alex von Schoeler and Jane Philip, makeup and Mary Wilham, Sue Wyatt and Julia Keydel taking care of the scenery. Robert Bates of the Cranbrook School music department was the accompanist. An orchestra played for dancing during the evening.

TRAVEL POSTERS outside the gym set the theme of booths which were sponsored by the various classes. The seventh graders chose the underworld for their theme, pubicities and ice cream were dispensed by the eighth graders at their "Iceiland" booth, the freshmen selected "China", sophomore "Hawaii", juniors, the western country and the seniors "U.S.A." booth featured confetti, cokes, cider and donuts.

Millers Take Wedding Trip To Bermuda Following Rites

The First Presbyterian church was the scene of last Saturday's nuptials which united in marriage Miss Edith Luce Kendall and Dale O. Miller, Jr. Miss Kendall is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kendall of Dorchester road and Mr. and Mrs. Dale O. Miller, Sr., of Waddington road are parents of the bridegroom.

Dr. W. Glen Harris officiated in the 3:30 afternoon ceremony on October 28.

A CHANTILLY LACE bodice with long pointed sleeves and a full skirt extending into a train of the Chantilly lace panels, the fashion of the bride's gown. Her fingertip length veil fell from a Juliet lace can and she carried an arrangement of white stephanotis. Mrs. Robert Kendall of Port Huron attended the bride as matron of honor. Her green velvet gown was accented by a wreath of ivy in her hair and a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaid, Miss Martha Miller of Birmingham and Miss Betty Holloway of Cleveland, Ohio, wore similar gowns of green velvet, ivy headresses and carried arrangements of rust colored chrysanthemums.

JACK CLANTON of Detroit served as best man while Robert Kendall of Port Huron and David Wamborg of Riverdale, Mich., acted the guests.

For the ceremony and following reception at Pine Lake Country club, Mrs. Kendall chose a gray lace gown, while the bridegroom's mother selected a gown of brown tulle. The junior Mrs. Miller donned a yellow knitted dress and brown accessories for her wedding trip to Bermuda which will include 1021 Gracefield road in Birmingham. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Miller will reside at 1021 Gracefield road in Birmingham.

AMONG THE out-of-town guests who arrived for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hill of Shrewsbury, Mass., Miss Alice Speight of East Longmead.

Expresses Thanks To Girl Scouts

Today, November 3, is International Friendship Day in the worldwide celebration of Girl Scout Week, October 29 to November 4; and this day has special significance for Birmingham Girl Scouts, for they have just received an expression of international goodwill from the Queen of Denmark. On Girl Scout Sunday, at their traditional dinner service, held at the Community House, they received the personal thanks of Denmark's Queen, Ingrid, who is president of the Danish Girl Guides, for the Schoolmates Overseas bags, which were made by several Birmingham troops during the past year.

THE EXPRESSION of appreciation was made by Mrs. Alfred Gram, United States representative of the Save for Children Federation, who delivered the bags in Denmark this summer. Four Girl Scouts who prepared the bags, Sra. Gagne, Marcia Melush, Katherine Birge and Julienne Basso, described to the audience the articles packed in their bags. Items included sweaters, dresses, hair ribbons, pencils, crayons, paper and soap. The sewing and packing of these overseas bags was a service project of Birmingham Girl Scouts last year.
