IT SAYS HERE...

BY ANN NONIMOUS

We don't know where the energy came from or when anyone had time to study, but last weekend everyone steered away from seriousness.

Carver Hendrix, Ned Stradinger, Peg Hallack, Ned Sharples, and the other boys of the team were only a few of those riding Greyhound to the Port Huron Friday night. Everyone took the bumps very well and cheered the team all the way.

Barb Chesley and Marilyn Hart visited at Purdue over the weekend and the other Adams was the guest of Tom Good for the University of Illinois homecoming.

FOR descended on the town Saturday night but that didn't stop Barb Lyndall, Lance Minor, Jane Kohr, John Bowie, Pat McGinnis and Dave Hunt from going on the DJC hayride. Did you notice the pictures in Sunday's Free Press?

Sara Stringer, Ark Fairbanks, Peggy Perkin, Woody Dore, Linda Miller, and Dave Boyen enjoyed the variety show is coming soon and everyone practicing hard. Don't forget the news received on report cards last week, kids.

The Halloween party also provided a big success with people waiting patients in line for sandwiches and cider—guess is "We don't eat to live but live to eat."

TO our surprise there was Frank Weaver at our game with Port Huron the other night.

Al Fremonty, senior member of KST was in the spotlight in the defeat of Black and White 19-13 at Pump field Sunday.

Have you heard about the trip Bill Aikens, Dave Beatty, Lester Colburn, Bill Wilkinson took recently to visit eastern colleges? Incidentally they had a suite on the Pacific! The Staller, say "South Pacific" and the famous Rockettes, and went nightclubbing at the Lido.

See you next week to gossip some more.

Our Head It Said By—

We Thomas Rainey, 654 West Lincoln: "I've just returned from visiting my brother in western Canada, and I'm reading all the stories in The Eccentric concerning the Halloween party here. They have quite a delinquency problem up there and have never tried anything like our annual party. I think it is a wonderful idea and certainly gave Birmingham a boost while I was there. All the people I talked to seemed very interested and I shouldn't wonder but what they will try it another year."
