

Holy Name School Dedicated Sunday By Cardinal Mooney

With words of praise for the Rev. David J. Dunne of Holy Name parish, and the priests and sisters who have served the school there, Edward Cardinal Mooney dedicated the new school addition Sunday afternoon.

The new $408,000 addition has been constructed to accommodate an additional 174 children.

The ceremony of blessing the new building which took place at 3 o'clock, was attended by some 500 children, officials of the church and school and about 3,000 guests.

Following this, Monsignor Carol Deady, superintendent of parochial schools for the archdiocese of Detroit, spoke on the opportunities of education which today are made available to every person in America.
