League of Women Voters To Discuss Problems of Federal Fiscal Policies

"Who is the enemy? Russia, North Korea, Communist China—or inflation? Or is inflation Russia's chief weapon, which, if allowed to run rampant, could wreck the U. S. economy? How can each member of the League of Women Voters and of this community play a part in the battle of inflation?"

Mrs. Harry Markle, League economic chairman, asked these questions of her committee and discussion leaders Monday afternoon, November 6, in the Baldwin Public Library, as they worked out plans for the League's assault upon this home-front problem during November's membership and discussion meetings, all open to the public.

SEVEN DISCUSSION groups, all open to interested men and women, will meet as follows: Monday, Nov. 27, 1 to 2 p.m., meeting at Miss Isa L. Parich's home, 1751 West Lincoln avenue; that evening from 8 to 10 p.m., at Mrs. J. P. Wright's home, 316 Pilgrim road.

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 28, from 8 to 10 p.m., a group will meet at the home of Mrs. Ogden Vogt, 515 Puritan road; Wednesday, Nov. 29, from 1 until 3 p.m., a meeting at the Baldwin Public Library; Wednesday, Nov. 29, 1 to 3 p.m., a gathering at Franklin Community hall; that evening from 8 until 10 p.m., Mrs. Paul Bowers' home at 1348 Buckingham road will be open for a meeting and on Thursday, Nov. 30, action chairman explained, "Many discussion group members have been stimulated to read and to wish for further discussion of a given subject."

That is why we are postponing our November discussion group to the week beginning November 27, and making room for a general membership meeting on November 20."

A "Warm-up" meeting, Monday, November 20, at the Community House from 1 until 3 p.m. for all members and interested citizens, will provide some understanding of the use of fiscal and credit controls in the economy through a brief discussion of federal taxes and budget. This will be followed by an informal question and answer period.
