

The Birmingham Eccentric

Having run their annual span of bud, blossom and bloom, the trees, bushes and flowers address for retirement to winter's slumber. But again in the spring they appear—governed by natural law, beyond human control.

Authors Consult Over Opening Play

SHIRLEY and LOUISE HERSEY

The Misses Shirley and Louise Hersey of west Maple road have written a new play for the Children's Theater Players of the Birmingham Branch of A.A.U.W., to be presented at the Birmingham Theater on Thursday, October 19.

The daughters of Scott Hersey have lived in Birmingham since early childhood and became interested in the Indian legends associated with this area.

FROM SUCH stories as the battle on the banks of what is now the Rouge River in Birmingham, they gathered background for their play. Believing that the Orchard Lake area provided the most interesting legends, they have used this as the locale for the action.

The "Broken Arrowhead" shows two children from Birmingham on a picnic with their mother at Orchard Lake. What happens when they start digging for arrowheads and meet Old-So-Old, an ageless turtle, will be told next Thursday.

THE DANCES in the play have been planned by Mrs. E. F. Aldrich and background music by Mrs. George Dudley. A dress rehearsal will be held at 1 p.m. on Wednesday, October 18, at the theater for all members of the A.A.U.W. club.

On Thursday, the doors will be open at 9:30 a.m. for the morning performance and at 1:30 p.m. for the afternoon. Further information may be had by calling Mrs. Stanley Hood, Midwest 4-0148 or Mrs. William Kegel at Midwest 4-6213.
