We Heard It Said By:— Frank Day, 1265 Villa road: "It may be described as 'an act of God' I guess. My neighbor and I have been talking about cutting down a big catalpa tree between our homes for about six months. It looked like an awful big job so we just kept putting it off. That thunder storm Monday morning settled the question once and for all, even though it did scare us half to death when the lightning hit it, split it in half and scattered the pieces all over the place."
