GOOSE STILL HONKS—When Thomas Bowers bought an estate in Dundee, Ill., he received an unexpected dividend, a 1918 Willis-St. Clair "Grey Goose" roadster. Shown with his wife and two sons, Bowers pumped up the car's tires, boosted the battery and, without bothering to change the car's original gasoline and oil, stepped on the starter. With a honk of delight, the "Grey Goose" rolled out of the garage for the first time in 32 years.

Cranbrook to Offer Course in Survival

Towards providing experience in getting along on one's own resources in the woods when lost or otherwise separated from home resources, adults from 17 to 60 are offered membership in a class called "Training for Homeless Survival", to be given by Walter P. Nickell at Cranbrook.

The class will meet three Saturday mornings beginning Sept. 23 and conclude with two weekend camps-out.

Class members will need such basic equipment as a bed roll or sleeping bag, Shelter making, fire making and utilization of foods from the woods and swamps will be taught.

Persons interested in joining the group must be interviewed by Nickell and register not later than noon on Saturday, Sept. 16.

We Heard It Said By:
Mrs. Leon B. Miller, 20735 West 12 Mile road: "I think the American press, for the most part, is doing an excellent job of keeping the public informed on the more important issues before citizens today. The Birmingham Eccentric, in and for the area it serves, also is doing a very fine job of reporting local affairs."
