ADDING CHARM TO Your Home

By Bill Wieland

MAPLE RISES TO THE OCCASION

Modern space-saving efficiency and nostalgic charm go hand-in-hand in the new Maple furnishings. Ingenious designers have scored again by achieving an effective combination of provincial and modern designs that are singularly appropriate for our smaller homes of today.

These gracefully proportioned pieces... offer the home decorator unprecedented scope to express independence of taste in arrangement and mood.

Draperies in dining area and living room and slip cover on sofa are plaid gingham in vibrant tones of red and green interspersed with yellow and white.

Walls have been painted a soft avocado green, a shade lighter than the wool broadloom floor coverings. This brings up the warm beauty of the richly finished honey-colored maple dining table, chairs and buffet. Old brass and pewter add quaint touches.

The most notable characteristic of the room is the subtle combination of provincial charm and modern simplicity... a trend that is rapidly gaining in favor everywhere.

Come in and let us show you our interesting selection of furnishings and tell you more about the new trends in home decoration.

Metamora Club To Hold Hunter Trials This Saturday

The rolling country back of the Metamora club will again be the scene of the annual Hunter Trials this Saturday, September 16, at 9:30 a.m. Like the Hunter-Breeder show of a week ago, the trials can be viewed from the hillside. There will be many classes which will be judged by Everett L. Crawford of Millbrook, N. Y.

The committee is headed by Ben Coleman. Mrs. Laura B. Higbie is secretary and Mrs. Graham J. Graham is in charge of entertainment. The other members are the Mesdames Edgar E. Thom, James J. Phelan, Jr., William E. Clark, Carlton M. Higbie, Edward E. Rothman, Theodore Gorenfo, Edward C. Parker, Reese Howard, J. Deane Rocker, George Gagner, Jr. and Miss Charlotte Nichols.

ONE OF THE features will be a float entered in the Lapeer Homecoming Day parade by the second and third grade children of Metamora. A complete hunt scene is on the float and all done by the children themselves, under the guidance of their teacher, Mrs. George Thompson. Another interesting event will be an exhibition of hounds followed by the hunt officials and members in full costume.

Friday night there will be a subscription dinner at the Metamora club, preceded by numerous small cocktail parties. Saturday noon a luncheon will be served at the club, subscription again, and opened to the guests at the trials.

SATURDAY NIGHT, the Hunt Ball will take place at the Murphy Lodge. It will be preceded by a dinner at which some of the important trophies won that day will be presented, always a colorful affair with the men wearing their formal pink and their ladies in black or white.

Mr. Crawford will judge the trials and announce during the events will be done by Edward C. Parker. Even the juniors take an active part and interest in the event. Posters to advertise the Hunter Trials were done by the Phelan, Mary Mae, Bobbie Terry and Anne, Mary and Ann Thom. Helen Parker drew diagrams of painted flags to mark the course.

Children's Theater Group To Give Tea

The home of Mrs. Stanley R. Hood, 4805 Charing Cross road, will be opened for a tea on Wednesday, September 20, for the Children's Theater group of the Birmingham branch of the A. A. U. W.

All members and their guests, as well as new people who want to work with this group are invited by the committee to attend the tea from 2 until 4 o'clock.

This also will be the opening meeting of the year for the group which gets together once each month for a discussion of subjects pertinent to the production of plays.

Among the programs already planned for this winter are "make-up," "production," and "costumes." In addition to the annual series of plays brought to Birmingham children, the group plans an institutional program activity to bring some extra fun to children of the Oakland County Juvenile home and the Baptist Children's home.

New Residents To Be Honored at Party

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bishop of Pilgrim road, who have recently moved to Birmingham from Detroit, will be the guests of honor Saturday night, when Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Lyman of west Thirteenth Mile road will host an outdoor party and steak-roast.

About a dozen couples from Birmingham will entertain judges for the affair, Everett L. Crawford of Millbrook, N. Y., during the weekend.

with a tiny petal collar embroidered in seed pearls. The gown was designed with a fitted bodice and long sleeves, while the deep pointed bangs were Miss Suzanne Anderson, Miss Nancy Keyes and Miss Phyllis Klingler, all of Birmingham.

THE FOUR ATTENDANTS were dressed alike in emerald green bengaline gowns, detailed with full skirts and simple fitted bodices which were cut with a boat neckline and tiny short sleeves. Their headresses were Juliet caps of matching green and they carried bouquets of gladioli buds and roses with trailing ivy streamers.

William Lyle Bones, Jr., served his brother as best man and the guests were seated by John Tjarda, Jr. of Detroit, Jack McBride of Birmingham, Thompson Tjarda, brother of the bride, Douglas F. Watson of Pontiac and Ronald Kasperzak of Grand Rapids.

FOR HER DAUGHTER'S wedding and following reception at the Bloomfield Hills Country club, Mrs. Tjarda was wearing a pearl-gray satin gown with a small hat of coral velvet, as she received the guests; while the bridegroom's mother selected a gown of darker grey with cut steel detail, dubonet accessories and corsage of eubimbin orchids.

For their motor trip to eastern Canada, the bride changed to a plaid wool suit with black accessories and a tiny black velvet cloche.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Bones will make their home in East Lansing.
