MSC to Start 96th Year on Sept. 18

A large number of Birmingham young people will be among the 15,000 students expected to register for fall classes when Michigan State college opens for its 96th year on Sept. 18.

Registrar Robert S. Linton said that registration and freshman orientation week will be Sept. 18-22, with classes getting underway Monday, Sept. 25.

Although a sharp drop in veteran enrollment is anticipated, men will still out-number women by a three-to-one ratio, Linton stated.

FOR the first time since the war, college authorities expect no critical housing shortage, either for married or single students. Approximately 8,000 students will be accommodated on the campus, as soon as Shaw hall dormitory for men is completed.

Added to the curriculum this year is a four year course for training of professional nurses and a few television courses.

Three newly created divisions will also be in operation for the first time, offering degree courses in six new fields. The units are the Division of conservation, Division of business, and Division of hotel, restaurant and general institutional management.

State Candidates

Governor

REPUBLICAN

FREDERICK M. ALGER, Jr., Gate Pointe; 43, Present Sec'y of State, University graduate. Formerly asst. to financial advisor of the Polish government, Poland.

"Can give improved services with present facilities. Michigan Compensation Commission could be improved, expenses cut down. Ought to increase mental hospital program. Liquor Control commission expenditures can be reduced; bars and liquor stores could be reduced.

"Welfare services could be improved; require careful scrutiny of welfare laws to make them more efficient. Can render services more economically. Filing system could be modernized and reduced. Like to microfilm all records as a safety measure. A central filing system needed. Adequate money if our sales tax holds up.

"Don't favor changes in state taxation system at present time. Do not think sales tax solution but do not think it can be eliminated now. Direct taxation would be better eventually.

"Hope we can have constitution revision on it. Opposed to any tax, except gasoline tax. Sales tax must remain as is. Oppose a corporation net income tax, individual income tax, flat or graduated, and excise taxes.

"Favor increase in gasoline and weight tax, so roads need improvement. Frankly, we do not need more money. Opposed to all increases in taxation.

"Think the legislature should be reappointed. Varum Plan covers it thoroughly. More interested in redistricting of cities than in increased representation, so that voters will know the representatives they are electing.

"After redistricting, increase representation. Plan of apportionment I prefer is straight population in the House with area in the Senate.

ALBERT J. ENGEL, Muskegon. Member U. S. House of Representatives.

"Expand mental hospital space by taking out aged people and expanding prevention program. Make complete study of services by experts. Reduce and eliminate what are not kept essential services.

"Our tax system is not based on our ability to pay. Make it efficient, plug up leaks, try to increase collections by modern methods, then balance revenues against expenses to see if new taxes are needed.

"Leave the sales tax as is. There are more corporation stockholders than employees and they are now taxed by the increase in federal corporate income tax. A graduated income tax, if any.

"Opposed to excise tax on the national to state, local government levels. Given national government right to impose taxes as they see fit, letting the state use what is left. Michigan can lead in bringing this reform about.

"Hope no increase in taxes with the exception of gasoline and weight tax. Need a realistic survey of the highway and street programs. Tourist resort business needs proper highways and that is important to state economy.
