On Tuesday, March 13, the eighth grade girls who have had child care for the past 14 weeks gave a children's party which lasted from 2 to 3 p.m. and took place in rooms 224 and 232.

In the child care class, each girl has observed a child and made a garment for him. After they finished the garment they invited the children and mothers to a party.

Mrs. Shark appointed hostesses to show the mothers and children around. Marilee Podlesak read stories to smaller children while the older ones drew pictures. At 3:30 everyone went into the cooking room where refreshments made by the third and fifth hour food classes were served.

While the mothers and children were having refreshments; the girls from child care class put on a fashion show. Each girl showed and gave a description of the garment she constructed, as well as one or two others made by the girls who weren't able to come.

Each child was given a balloon, and an ester egg as favors. The mothers were very interested in the garments and complimented the girls on the workmanship.

Barnum School Radio Programs

The next radio workshop program is entitled "Lift a Mountain" and portrays an incident in the life of Horace Mann.

In the cast are Bob Selvidge, George Mann; Penny Sears, Miss Fuller, a teacher; Mary Lou Clark, Mrs. Chandler; David Gibbons, Mrs. Chandler; Charles Fredrickson, Robert Chandler, a little boy; announcer, Steve Wallis; technicians, Al Abbeck and Ann Duffield; and student director, Barbara Aikens.

The program will be broadcast from W.C.B. Pontiac at 10:45 a.m., Thursday, April 5.

BARNUM JUNIOR HIGH NEWS

The Barnum Junior High school assembly club, consisting of four students from each grade held their third meeting. The chairman of the club, Jerry Kraus, has worked to promote more and better assemblies at Barnum.

The club has found that the students like programs put on by outside persons, rather than programs by students.

Assembly Club members are chairman, Jerry Kraus; faculty advisor, Mr. Miller; ninth grade representatives, Jim Kraus, Douglas Green, Mary Kretsch, Sarah Colwell.

Eighth grade representatives, Dick Morgan, Roger Cudini, Gail Toepfer, Emily Berz; seventh grade representatives, Julie Schaefer, Dick DeLora, Bob Nelson, Helen Colwell.

Assemblies scheduled are as follows: April 5, talent assembly; April 12, safety program with Lt. Henry Timm; April 19, sound effects program—"The Alien"; April 26, high school choir.

Other programs will be May 2, Orchestra Band, choral groups of Barnum; May 10, awards assembly; May 18, dress rehearsal of operetta; May 24, Opera; June 1, honor society; June 7, student council elections; June 14, Open; June 21, promotion assembly.

IN THE 8TH GRADE basketball play-offs homeroom 222 defeated homeroom 214 for the second straight year. Final score was 19-15. The game was fairly even at the end of the half but 222 played a slightly better game in the last half. High scorer in the game was Jerry Kraft of 222 who scored 8 points.

Barnum's outlook is very good although there is an acute shortage of pitchers. The first game is a non-league tilt with Ferndale April 19.

KAREN GROOMS READ "Lillian Wald: Angel of Henry Street" by Beryl Williams. Lillian Wald was the founder of the Visiting Nurses association and the Henry Street settlement in the lower east side of New York City.

She dedicated her life to bring about better living and health conditions for the people living in that part of New York. The book is interesting and well written, according to the reviewer.

Bill Neuman enthusiastically recommends "George Patton: General in Shirts" by Alden Hatch. This book brings out the color in the life of George Patton—from the time he was born until he died. As a boy he used to play war games with his sister. If the original battle took three days, George's battle took three days. All his life he was attached to war. In the army, no matter what assignment he got, he put all his heart into it. This was one of the many things that made him so well liked by his fellow men.

Neuman believes it is a very good book because it was written not from the pen but from the heart. There is just enough in it so that the boys and girls are not so much that the girls would not like it also.

MARCH 21 ENDED the homeroom competition. The winning room was 119, a seventh grade homeroom. The points on which the rooms were judged were neatness and use, borders and the least papers on the floor in the hall outside the room. The first prize will be movie tickets and free swim in the pool being arranged for the runners-up.

Cranbrook Spring Dance April 6

Cranbrook's varsity letter-winner's club, the "C" club, will present its spring dance "Springtime" Friday evening, April 6, from 8 until 12 p.m. in the Cranbrook School auditorium.

The Fenby-Carr Quintet from Detroit will provide music for this semi-formal affair.

ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON, Cranbrook arts instructor, is in charge of decorations. Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert
