Glen Oaks Course Opened to Public
Designed to be a private country club and for most of its existence operated as such, Glen Oaks Country club on 13 Mile road, near Orchard Lake road, will be open to the public this season, according to Pete Gageds, newly appointed manager. New also will be Ted Gageds as pro.

Gettings has been a golf club manager in the Detroit area for the past several years and Maged is well known in local golfing circles, having been an assistant pro at Birmingham Country club and the Lochmoor club in Grose Pointe.

For the past two seasons he was the chief municipal pro for the courses operated by the city of Detroit. Bill Angus will assist Maged.

BESIDES BEING a fine golf layout, Glen Oaks has a large club house with complete facilities for all types of club activities. Groups of all kinds can be accommodated.

Early season golfers will find the 6,300-yard links in fine shape, according to Maged, who stated that much extra grooming is scheduled as soon as weather permits.

Leo Conroy Begins 18th Season as North Hills Pro
Leo Conroy, popular pro at North Hills Golf club, is starting his eighteenth season at the position. During all of his tenure, the club has been operated as a public links and will be again this year.

Because it was designed to be a championship layout, as part of Oakland Hills Country club, North Hills attracts some of the area's best golfers, according to Conroy, who also said Walter O. Lasky would again be assistant pro, Ken Hockey, another old-timer at the club will serve as part-time assistant.

Conroy stated that the course came through the winter in fine shape. He said turf building operations have been completed and all traps will be put in excellent condition as soon as possible.

Gertrude Brooks again will operate the dining room at North Hills this season and Mrs. F. McCall will be in charge of the kitchen. Fred Bates will be the locker room man.
