

Miami University Students Wed

The First Methodist Church was the scene of the double ring ceremony that united two Miami University students in marriage.

MRS. EDWARD DAVEY

versity students, Betty Groom and Edward Davey in marriage. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Crum of Pontiac and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence P. Davey of 912 Ridgedale. For the 1:30 ceremony read by Rev. Arnold Runkel, the bride was crowned in white imported chastity lace over tulle. The bodice was distinguished by tiny seed pearls and valtiets which outlined the portrait neckline, the yoke of which was sheer nylon net. The full gathered skirt extended into a graceful train and her finger tip veil of illusion fell from a cap of the same type lace as her gown. She carried a cascade arrangement of gladioli and asters.

Mrs. Norman McNair, the bride's sister and matron of honor was dressed in a gown of angel pink satin and net. The satin bodice was made with off-shoulder neckline and the bouffant skirt was of net. She carried a cascade arrangement of blue gladioli and other summer flowers.

The bridesmaids' gowns were styled like the honor attendants in stardust blue. Their cascade bouquets were of pink gladioli. Pat Groom, Mary Gerdan and Wanda Ogg all of Pontiac were the other attendants.

William Saffell was his fraternal brother's best man. The guests were seated by Dan Gregg, Frank Allen and Robert Forster.
