After the Hustle and Bustle of the Busy Christmas Season

—comes a welcome lull in the monotony and movement of today's business world.

We're especially glad for that abrupt halt and definite pause after the crescendo of Christmas in our store... for it affords us the opportunity of not only being able to thank our many fine friends, but also of enjoying the thrill of being thankful.

Many times we say thank you on the run and hurry off to serve someone else who needs our help with their shopping.

But now that the rush is over, we extend to all you wonderful people, our sincerest thanks and our very best wishes for your success and happiness on each and every day of the NEW YEAR.
