Hills with a score of 287. Clayton Leafly finished two strokes behind with 288.

Birmingham board of education last week announced the appointment of Larned Goodrich as assistant principal of Baldwin High school. He has been a member of the teaching staff and student counselor here for 12 years.

Future construction of two badly needed structures was considered by the city commission Monday evening. Discussed were a fire hall at the Bowers-Adams street site and a new Springdale Park building.

The local YMCA Committee of Management voted Monday evening to proceed with plans for a temporary "Y" building at the corner of Edgewood and Lincoln. Ed Kierber, local "Y" secretary, said the valuation will be $3,200 and the structure will be a one-story frame building.

Recently elected president of the Birmingham Junior Chamber of Commerce is Harry O. Smart, 1215 Cedar. He succeeds Jim Cole, 330 Linden, who will take over the treasurer's post for the next year.

Several months of hard work and planning became a reality Monday evening as Birmingham's Little League baseball organization started its season with the Red Sox defeating the Tigers 10 to 3 before a jam-packed crowd of 500 enthusiastic fans at St. James' field.

An ordinance prohibiting motor boats operating in Quanton lake was approved by the city commission Monday evening. Action was taken following a complaint from a resident of the Quanton Lake area who stated a recent party was held near the lake to which the group brought a motor boat.

Consumers Fower Company's plans for construction of a modern, attractive customer building at Merrill and Henrietta were announced today by Southeast Division Manager D. L. Brown of Pontiac. The proposed structure will be brick, stone, steel and glass and is designed to provide drive-in cashier facilities.

Jacques Linder, who was graduated June 14 from Bloomfield Hills high school at the age of 16, has been awarded a full scholarship to Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is the son of Messrs. Eugene A. Linder of West Chester Road, Eastover Farm.

Birmingham city commission is encouraging the city to "take its head in the sand" when it comes to city planning, former Plan commission chairman Mrs. Peter E. Loomis charged in a 4½ page strongly worded letter to the commissioners this week. She declared the city commission, in its adoption last week of a new plan ordinance "timidly and regressively set aside a good ordinance and substituted a weak one."

Samuel Bennett, principal of Barnham Junior high school for the past three years, has resigned to become supervising principal at Maryvale, N. Y., a suburb of Buffalo.

The Bloomfield division, American Red Cross, raised its 1951 quota by about 23 per cent, according to Max Fruhauf, chairman. The entire amount turned over to the Oakland county chapter was $5,623.90.
