Pat Cucchi Wears Mother's Gown

MRS. THORESEN

The wedding of Miss Patricia Angela Cucchi of Devonshire road and John Paul Thoresen of Detroit, took place Saturday February 3, at ten o'clock in the morning, in Holy Name Church with Rev. Elmer J. Macy, uncle of the bride reading the ceremony.

The bride wore her mother's wedding dress of antique satin. The illusion neckline was trimmed with a pearl design. Her veil of Belgian lace was long as was her court train. She carried a white orchid on a white satin prayer book.

MARY THERESE CUCCHI was her sister's maid of honor. Marilyn Nolte was her bridesmaid. They were gowned alike in hunter's green taffeta, and carried bouquets of natural shattered stock in shades of scarlet and amethyst with purple velvet streamers.

John O'Brien of Detroit served as best man and Daniel Nolte of Detroit was usher.

A breakfast at DAC for close friends and relatives followed the ceremony. A larger reception was held in the home of the bride's parents in the afternoon.

Upon their return from Chicago where they spent their honeymoon they will reside in Dearborn.

Couple United in Candlelight Rites

The J. Curtis Wilson home on Cranbrook road, Bloomfield Hills, was the setting for a reception Saturday afternoon following the marriage of Elizabeth Anne Wilson to Nathan Bryant Hall, son of Mrs. John S. Bleecker and the late John Hardy Hall.

The service was read by the Rev. Robert DeWitt in the chancel of Christ Church, Cranbrook. The bridegroom's gown was of antique satin trimmed with wide bands of imported chantilly lace and her cap which held her three-quarter length veil of illusion was fashioned of the same lace. Her bouquet was of white orchids and stephanotis.

FRANCES WILLSON, as her sister's maid of honor and only attendant, wore a gown of rose starched chiffon with tiny matching hat. She carried a colonial bouquet of spring flowers.

The bride's brother, Jay, assisted the bridegroom. Ushers were the bridegroom's brothers Dr. John Handy Hall and Dr. Thomas William Hall, both of Philadelphia.

For a honeymoon to Bermuda the bride traveled in a costume of suit of beige wool with brown accessories. When they return from their trip they will reside in Ann Arbor.

VAUGHAN SCHOOL NEWS

Last Friday the tenth grade of Vaughan school sponsored the Carousal dance. It was unusual in that no admission was charged. Approximately 50 attended.

The committee in charge consisted of Jane Corrigan, Carolyn Wolfenden, Barbara Johnson, Virginia Andrews and Beryl Wilson. A Chinese auction was held, and two tenth graders, Ted Leaf and Bob Service, dressed as waiters of the Gay Nineties period served refreshments.

Four mornings last week were taken up by school-wide aptitude and achievement tests given to compare Vaughan students with the nation as a whole, and also as a basis for guiding students in their further studies as to what they are best suited for. Tests were sponsored by the University of Michigan.
