

Most wives make more little and big sacrifices for their families than do their husbands. Women are, by Nature's law, less selfish than men where their family life is concerned. They may not have all the worldly knowledge that men have, but are more heavenly!

THE SUNNY SLOPES OF ITALY

where lovely villas look down on the sea, must have inspired the architect of this beautiful Bloomfield Hills home. Its Old World charm and romance are increased by the handsome elms and willows that frame it so gracefully.

It is difficult to describe a house like this, because nothing today is being created that compares with it. Suffice it to say, it is generous in all its rooms and appointments.

The Studio-type living room is 24' x 32'. The great hall measures 16½' x 20'. Library 11½' x 14'. Two bedrooms and bath offer a great convenience on the first floor. On the second floor are 3 charming family bedrooms and 2 baths plus servants' quarters.

The heating system is modern and adequate for complete comfort. The family looking for a fine home in the Hills, convenient to Cranbrook, Kingswood and Vaughan Schools, should not fail to inspect this lovely home. Gladly shown by appointment.

Sara Martha Groves Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

The marriage of Sara Martha Groves and Ralph E. Holman was solemnized at 7:30 p.m. in the First Methodist Church, Saturday.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mylie E. Groves of Westchester Way and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Holman of Orange, New Jersey.

For the candlelight ceremony at which Dr. Arnold F. Runkel officiated before an altar banked with white flowers, the bride chose a gown of white organza over taffeta, with a bodice neckline over which she wore a bolero jacket. Her fingertip veil of silk net fell from a half crown of organza and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and asters centered with a white orchid.

Her maid of honor, Miss Ruth Smith of Milwaukee, Wis., was gowned in white marquisette organza over green taffeta. She wore a matching small cap of organza and green shirps and carried a bouquet of yellow daisies.

Ann Groves, was her sister's bridesmaid and another sister, Mary Ellen Groves, was junior bridesmaid. Their gowns were styled the same as the honor attendant's in white marquisette organza over blue and yellow taffeta, and they carried yellow daisies.

The groom's father was best man and the guests were seated by Robert Hill of Grosse Pointe Woods, Robert Cromar of Detroit and Stewart Peck and Michael Groves of Birmingham. Mrs. Groves chose for her daughter's wedding an ankle length gown of tulle lace over taffeta with matching accessories. She wore white gladioli blossoms centered with red rose buds. The groom's mother was gowned in dusty rose chiffon and lace with a small cap and gloves of matching chiffon and lace. She wore orchid tipped gladioli blossoms centered with deep pink rose buds.

After the reception in the church parlors the newly-weds left for Canada on their honeymoon. On their return they will reside in Michigan City, Ind.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Harmer and children of Southampton, Canada, Miss Lillian Franklin of Milwaukee, Wis., and Miss Joan McPhillips and Mrs. Mrs. William Burke of Midland, Michigan.
