Fence Around Harmon Pk. Still Undecided Issue

No further action has been taken on the fencing of Harmon park, City Manager Donald C. Egbert said an understanding had not yet been reached between the city and residents of the area. In addition, he said it might prove difficult to fence the park at this time due to the expense involved and the shortage of material.

"So far as I am concerned personally," he said, "I'd rather see the money used to buy additional equipment for our parks. Fencing right now is very expensive and the entire cost of this project would represent a pretty big outlay."
