

Fellowships for Pierce Foundation Awarded to Four

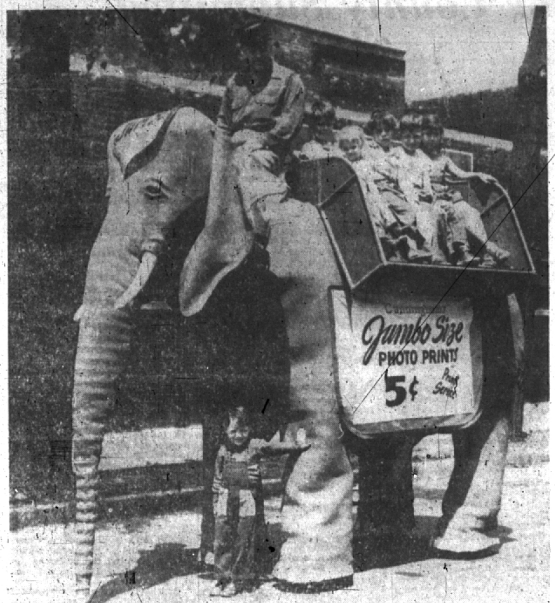

San Lorenzo, Calif.; Hoyt Mitchell, Warren county agent, Abbeville, Ark.; Gale LeRoy Vandenberg, associate county agent, Appling, Wis.

Winners were selected from a large field of applicants by four regional committees consisting of recognized agricultural leaders. Selections were made on the basis of achievements in agricultural extension work and the applicant's potential value to extension work.

Each of the four fellowships provides a grant of $2,000 plus the tuition fee for nine months of advanced study in agriculture at the institution selected by the fellow.

The Foundation was created by DeaBarn Distributors in 1950 in memory of the late Frank R. Pierce, first president of DeaBarn Motors Corp. Its purpose is to give county agents, associate county agents, and assistant county agents of outstanding ability an opportunity to broaden their knowledge and develop their ability for greater service to agriculture.

WINNERS OF THE Fellowships are Herbert Harlan Hazlett, county agent, Lima, Ohio; Lee Charles Benson, county agent.

Carnival proceeds will support the school's scholarship fund and there will be games for all ages, booths, movies and a bake sale. Workers on the carnival committee include Mrs. E. B. Palmer, Mrs. Kenneth McGreggor, Mrs. Torrey Shallosora and Mrs. William Shatka. President of the school PTA is Mrs. John D. Phoney.

Honors Awarded To Cranbrook Local Students

Fifty-four seniors of Cranbrook School marched down the aisle of Christ Church Cranbrook Saturday June 9, participating in the school's 24th annual graduation service.

Dr. Alexander G. Ruthven, retiring president of the University of Michigan delivered the address on the subject: "The Three R's—Reading, Responsibility and Religion."

THE PRECEDING EVENING, honors for the entire academic year were given out by Headmaster Harry D. Hoyt following a short speech of introduction by an alumnus and chairman of the Cranbrook School Board of Directors, Donald E. Flintermann.

Hoyt announced the highest honor the school awards to a member of the junior class—that of head of student government for the 1951-52 academic year—had been awarded to John Hatch, son of Clarence Hatch, Jr., 584 Tooty Lane.

Hatch has been an active member of the student body ever since he came to Cranbrook in 1940.

Awards Night ceremony, traditionally held in Alumni Court, took place in Cranbrook auditorium because of rain. Awards were given to student leaders in all phases of school life and several Birmingham students were honored.

VIRGIL EXNER won the Trinity College award. This coveted prize was given to him for his extra-curricular and athletic work in his two years at Cranbrook. Before coming to Cranbrook, Exner won an award in the Fisher Body Company annual contest, gaining him a college scholarship which he will use until at Notre Dame where he will take up automotive engineering.

Bill James was awarded with the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute award for excellence and distinction in the fields of science and mathematics, and for showing promise in the field of engineering.

One of his class members, Senior Prefect his last year, and was an outstanding creative writer for both the school weekly newspaper and yearbook. He will enter the Freshman Class at Princeton University next fall. James graduated Cum Laude.

OTHER AWARDS included Dave Williams, who was announced as the new editor of The Brook, the school's yearbook.

Duncan Eaton, was given two positions of leadership for the forthcoming year. It was announced that he had been elected as one of five Senior Prefects to help lead the school next year and is president-elect of the School Glee club.

Mark Smith will lead the Press staff for the coming academic year. He was active during the past year writing stories on athletics and activities for local and hometown newspapers. Dan Newey was also elected as a Senior Prefect.

Membership in the National Quill and Scroll Society sponsored by Northwestern University Society for High School Journalism was given to Charles Carter, John Haslam, and David Williams.

JACK KNOBLOCK was presented with the Silver Medal award in Rifle for consistently shooting high scores throughout the year with the Rifle Team. George Koch, was given third prize, a Bronze Medal for his rifle shooting during the year. Both men scored consistently high in the National Postal Matches, the New York Journal American and the Hearst Matches, with the entire team placing fourth in the Hearst matches.

Charles Mortensen, chamber of commerce executive secretary, will attend the annual session of the national chamber at Northwestern university in August.

Commission Okays New-Fine Schedule

Traffic violations in 22 classifications are going to cost drivers more in the future. City commissioners have approved the schedule of fines changes proposed by Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley who has conferred with other nearby authorities in order to reach a more uniform schedule.

Two new fines are added to the schedule, two changed to conform more closely to the year-old uniform traffic laws, and one deleted in half.

Drivers failing to yield the right of way to pedestrians on a crosswalk heretofore paid $10. The new schedule, calls for a $5 fine.

NEW FINES will include $1 for parking over the line in a meter space and $2 fine for taxis carrying a passenger in the front seat when the rear seat is not filled.

Other changes include blocking traffic, trucks in prohibited areas, prohibited turns, no chauffeur licenses or badge, no plates on trailers, dirty or missing plates, excessive noise, excessive smoke, double parking, abandoned car, other parking violations, impounded cars and storage on same.

The remainder of the changes are concerned with tax violations. Changes in the schedule of fines will go into effect July 1. Some of these changes have been made in an effort to establish a uniformity of fines, Moxley pointed out.

MAYOR Chad Ritchie pointed out several violations common to Birmingham which, while simple appearing, can create a major hazard. Among them was double parking.

"It's the most selfish thing a driver can do," Ritchie said. "People do it thoughtlessly. Egbert said he felt the schedule should aim at results. Uniformity should benefit traffic conditions."

Traffic Engineers Engaged to Conduct Birmingham Survey

Detroit traffic engineers Gunderson and Dobeck will shortly begin their survey designed to ease Birmingham's present traffic problem.

Commissioners want the widening of Willets, expansion of Park and a solution to the congestion problem at Woodward and Maple among the first things considered.

Mayor Chad Ritchie and commissioners were far from flatteringly in their comments on this situation.

Frank Rising said he watched "the mess Saturday morning" and did not know "who made me shudder, the pedestrian or drivers. Lots of drivers show their way through and a lot of pedestrian step off the curb without thought to on-coming traffic."

Awards Presented To Students at Kingswood School

Class presidents were announced and cups for athletic ability and scholarship awarded at Kingswood School at the annual Kingswood Day.

For athletic ability and scholarship went to Judy Earle, Sandra Greenfield and Martha Lueger.

New senior president is Ann Shuttleworth. Other presidents are Juniors, Sheila Fred, sophomore, Alice Mosler; and Freshmen, Marilyn Malone. Heading the eighth graders will be Jerady Carter. President of athletic council for next year is Suky Reid.

A SCHOLARSHIP CUP presented by the faculty in Miss Margaret Auler's name was presented to Winifred Koenisch of Birmingham for being the senior with the highest scholastic rating.

Miss Auler, headmistress at Kingswood school for 15 years, retired last year.

Scholarship pins given by the students to four seniors who rated next highest in their class went to Karen Blitstein, Gail Kohms, Elaine Packard and Carol Rosenberger.

Post Office Picnic

Bernard Fowler, acting postmaster, is completing plans for the third annual picnic of Birmingham post office employees. The affair will be held June 24 at Kerr park on Hamlin road, near Big Beaver.

BURTON WRIGHT, production manager for WWJ, will return to the Cranbrook Summer Theater school again this year. Wright, lead director for Detroit's theater arts, produced "Life with Father" at Cranbrook last summer. He will lead classes in radio speech and production and direct some of the senior plays at Cranbrook.

"Shades of Wild Bill Hickok," Scorers Decide

FORT JACKSON, S. C.—When Private Harry L. Sugen of Birmingham, Mich., went to the carbine firing range here recently, the men marking targets thought someone had introduced a new type of weapon.

Firing 20 of his 40 rounds into the center of the target, Sugen nearly tore out the bull's eye to gain a score of 129 out of a possible 200.

A RESIDENT OF 848 Smith Street, Birmingham, Sugen is on duty here with the 21st (Dixie) Division Artillery and a member of B Battery, 104th AAA. Automatic Weapons Battalion. The only other man in division artillery to equal Sugen's score was Master Sergeant F. H. Hamner of Sallito, Miss.

Former assistant post master for the International Salt Co. in Detroit, 22-year-old Sugen had his first experience with firearms in classes on the use of the rifle conducted by a Birmingham police sergeant.

Later intervals in deer hunting, he became familiar with the .30 cal. Savage and .30-06 Springfield rifles, both former Army weapons. Pvt. Sugen is now a lead setter in a 40 m. gun crew and in the last week of his basic training here.

City Intends to Start Condemnation On Henkel Property

City Attorney Forbes S. Hascall has been instructed to draw up a resolution so the city commission can start condemnation of the Henkel property, immediately west of the new West Maple Bridge.

The land is needed in the widening of Maple. It was pointed out that the owner has been given much opportunity to make arrangements with the city. Contracts for the work is about to be advertised.
