Annual Swingout
Slated Friday

By PEG HALLOCK

"Journey begun . . . '51" will be the theme Friday when the senior class presents the annual swingout.

Leaving the pier will be Lynne Davison and her group saying their last good bye. In England, George "Sherlock Holmes" Bosworth and his detectives will perform while in France will be Pat Olmstead's French ballet. Barb Stuedinger in "An American in Paris" and Barb Rosborough's French cancan.

In Switzerland, Margaret Elliott, "syncopated clock" will be the big attraction. Into the deep jungles of Africa a group of monkeys will dance to the tune of "Abdaba Honeymoon."

KARIN OLDBERG and Mary Hopkins will show the group Italy before the boat leaves for Haiti. In Haiti the group will find Don Halpin's blue gray fedora and in Mexico will see Indiana Rich Spademan and Carver Hendrix.

Before coming back to the states Jan Kindley and her bula dancers, will provide entertainment in Hawaii. Back here in Texas, Cris Adams will show how "You can't get a man with a gun." In Brooklyn, Avis Murphy and Tom Carlson will do the "lars" song. Nancy Wilson's group will sing the finale. Jane Kohr is general chairman of the swingout and faculty advisor is Duncan Helmrich.
