The Oakland Hills Club House—One of America's finest

In a community like Birmingham, it is only natural that the stores and shops would be outstanding in appearance, facilities and in the selection of merchandise. You'll not be disappointed when you visit our business establishments. Almost anything you would care to shop for can be found here in wide selections. Courtesy is the usual thing among our sales people and everyone will be glad to have you drop in.

When the first of America's finest professional golf tournaments is held at the Oakland Hills today, it will mark the third time that Birmingham has been the host to the world's most important golf tournament, the National Open Championship. It is the 51st time that the tournament is sponsored by the USGA. Birmingham feels proud that the first of the year's events of the year is being held here again.

Golf and the city of Birmingham have much in common. Many of the city's citizens of the community play golf, and a large number of the district's numerous country clubs. The city is within fifteen miles of Birmingham. Is it any wonder that Birmingham is happy to welcome you here to the National Open?

If you are one of our guests at this great event, we invite you to see the city to the fullest. Accept our invitation to visit the city and to contain some of the nation's finest homes, parks, and civic center will linger long in your memory. We hope that your shopping adventure thing new and novel in shopping adventure home among us and while enjoying the tournament in Birmingham.
