About The Players

The Village Players are in rehearsal for their next show, a three-act comedy to be presented on March 30 and 31. "Here Today" is being directed by George M. Dweley. In the cast are Mrs. Donald Bell, Mrs. George Dweley, Robert Wyatt, Mrs. Russell Richardson, Allan Lutz, John Spillstone, Mrs. Albert Reihing and Marc Parsons. Mrs. William Kegel has charge of tickets.

Ernest Cbritton, Jr., claims Bride in North Carolina

Mrs. Ernest F. Cbritton Jr.

The attendants were gowned identically in bluish pink net designed with a fitted bodice, chantilly lace yoke, lace fill over the shoulders and bouffant skirts. Their net hats matched their gowns in color and featured a soft trim of chantilly lace. They wore bluish net mitts and carried wedding ring bouquets of bluish pink camellias.

MRS. ROBERT HAUSER of Columbus, Ga. served as matron of honor, while Helen Anne Reid of Thomsville performed her duties as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mary Chritton of Birmingham, sister of the bridegroom; Marsha Phillips of Thomsville; Marion Skinner of Lumberton, N. C. and Pamela Bell of Winston-Salem, N. C.

The bridegroom asked Colin McWarty, of Lancaster, Pa. to assist him as best man and John K. and Robert Farrington, brothers of the bride, John Chritton, brother of the bridegroom and Thomas B. Cookery III, of Charlotte, N. C. acted as the guests.

For her daughter's wedding and later reception in their home, Mrs. Farrington was wearing a gown of powder blue crepe trimmed with lace, a matching net cloche and a white orchid.

WOODLAND VIOLET marquisette was the gown choice of the bridegroom's mother. With this she wore a pink hat and gloves and a white orchid.

For traveling to Florida the bride changed to a suit of lavender gabardine and a white hat of Milan straw. She pinned the orchid from her bouquet to her furs.

When the newly weds return, they will make their home in Knoxville.

LIVING IS FUN at WING LAKE!

Fishing? ... Sailing? ... Skating? ... Swimming? ... All of the things you and your children like to do in and near the water? ... They're right at your own front door when you live at Wing Lake!

And it costs no more to live this "fun" way. The school is close at hand ... and it's one of the best. The community water system serves your home here ... no expensive individual wells are necessary. The bus into Birmingham brings your day help, takes you shopping, makes the one-car family free of transportation worries. Playmates? Sure ... and the kind you want to see your youngsters friendly with!

Taxes are low, too ... and your school tuition is fully paid. For High School there's a bus to Vaughan School in Bloomfield ... have you seen the new and handsome addition built last fall? There's a new addition to the Wing Lake School getting underway, too!

No finer residential community exists than the Wing Lake area. Building sites are remarkably low in price and you're really in the country ... without rural inconveniences. You'll like your neighbors, too ... you probably know many of them right now.

Ask the people who live here ... living is fun at Wing Lake!
Wide building sites ... 140 by 135 feet are only $2940.
