

Local LWV Elects New President

Mrs. Brooks Marshall has been elected President of the Birmingham League of Women Voters for a two-year term at their annual luncheon meeting Monday at the Community House. Mrs. Marshall has been a member of the local League for about six years and has been an active participant in many fields of the organization's work.

Mrs. Charles Guilford was elected Vice-President and Mrs. Thomas Cauley, Secretary. Mrs. T. Hollister Mabey continues for a year as 2nd Vice-President and Mrs. Vernon Bell as Treasurer. Elected Directors for the coming two years are Mrs. Harvey Greene, John Ramsey, Mrs. W. W. Williams and Mrs. Richard Van Dusen. Mrs. Vernon Mickelson was elected to fill an unexpired term of one year as Director. Mrs. Thomas Shelham, Mrs. Harvey Foreit and Mrs. William Jackson will continue for one year as Directors.

THE 1951-52 BUDGET was presented and approved by the membership and the local agenda adopted. In the coming year, the League will concentrate their efforts on the local level, in a study of local and county governmental (tax supported) services for children, with a view to supporting legislative action to strengthen these services, and a study of local and county government with special emphasis on tax structure. In her farewell speech, outgoing President, Mrs. Graham Shinnick, announced that the Birmingham LWV now has 264 members. "It is with pride," she said, "that I tell you that more and more the Birmingham League is accomplishing its aim to let the people know, make the people care and help the people act."

How Many Boundaries Has Birmingham?

Geographically, Birmingham is bounded on four sides. So is every other community.

In the case of Birmingham, however, there is a fifth boundary... a sort of special dimension. And it defines the real Birmingham more accurately than any other.

This special dimension is the measure of what Birmingham means to us who live here. (It is also the measure of what we wish Birmingham to be in the future.)

Birmingham, we believe, is not just another suburb. It is not just an address.

It is, we believe, a special type of small city. It is a way of life. Because we believe these things, we are here.

Birmingham looks like the kind of city we want to live in.

Birmingham acts like the kind of city we want to live in.

Birmingham lives like the kind of city we want to live in.

This is the special dimension we must preserve and protect. To this end I pledge:

Understanding of the community, its problems and its aspirations... understanding gained through active participation in civic affairs.

Time, energy and thought as required for the affairs of the community.

Absolute and unwavering independence. No man can fully serve his community if he has prior allegiance to any lesser group.
