What would YOU do about telephone rates if you were in our shoes?

you were managing Michigan Bell. Suppo that your job was to continue supplying the kind of telephone service that Michigan and the nation can depend on in these critical times

Immediately, you'd run up against these inescapable

- 1. To maintain the quality of service expected by the public, to provide improved service for many thousands of present users, and to meet the needs for new service in growing communities, your Company must continue to expand.
- 2. On top of that, the grim shadow of war demands that telephone service be ample for the giant job of national defense. New communication facilities must be added to handle the vital needs of military establishments, defense projects, and expanding production programs.
- 3. But the millions of dollars to finance this But the millions of dollars to finance tris-essential expansion and improvement of the tele-phone system must come from thousands of people who have savings to invest. They'll put this success in the telephone business only their money in the telephone business only if they're assured that the Company's earnings will provide them a reasonable return.
- 4. You'd find that Michigan Bell's earnings-the money left over after expenses are met—are far below the earnings of other businesses. In the postwar period, Michigan Bell averaged only a little over 5 cents on each dollar invested compared with 12 to 16 cents for leading industrial pared with 12-to 10 cents for reading mountrial concerns. The Telephone Company must com-pete with these other concerns in attracting money from investors. And the prospects for present telephone rates to produce adequate earnings from now on are mighty slim.

As a public utility your rates are regulated by the Michigan Public Service Commission. So, it would be your responsibility to propose—and ould be your responsibility to propose—and mong the Commission's responsibilities to establish-rates adequate to (a) assure continuation of high-quality service; (b) pay fair wages to telephone employees; and (c) permit earnings that will protect the savings of telephone investors and attract the additional capital needed to do the job.

Faced with those facts, what would you do?

Sit back and do nothing . . . stop adding facilities . . . get along as best you can with what you have and let it go at that?

Of course you wouldn't.

Even though you'd rather not ask your customers to pay more for their service, plain horse sense would tell you that you should apply at once for increased rates to make your Company's earnings adequate for the job that has to be done.

And that is what Michigan Bell is planning to do
