CHRIST CHURCH COMMITTEE ADMIRE 16TH CENTURY HERBAL

Old-Fashioned Christmas Is Recreated at Church Bazaar

Old English prints from a 16th century herbal are being made into Christmas cards, shadow box pictures, and trays by Mrs. Max Fruhauf's Greenhouse committee for the Christ Church Cranbrook Christmas bazaar, to be held Friday, November 30, from 2 o'clock until 5 in the Guild Hall.

A pot-bellied stove, a Hitchcock rocker beside a tree trimmed with real candles, popcorn and cranberry strings, gilded walnuts and pine cones, will recreate an atmosphere reminiscent of the turn of the century.

Other articles for sale include toys, bags, kitchen items, aprons, candles, place-mats, and pantry goods.

GENERAL CHAIRMAN of the bazaar is Mrs. Ari M. Betoile. Heading committees are the Mesdames Wesley Wright, Nathaniel C. Kern, John Southard, J. Beall, William Howard, William Dupler, Robert DeWitt, Arbi O. Thacker, Frederick Booth and Kenneth McGregor.

The list of committee chairmen continues with the Mesdames C. A. Underhill, J. A. Frost, C. W. Meyer, R. M. Diener, George Dixon, W. S. Gilbreath, Jr., Robert Hal-

Holy Name Bazaar Ends

Highlighted by a near-sellout of Guild Booth merchandise, a lively bazaar and floor show, and distribution of prizes every twenty minutes, the Winter Festival and Bazaar of Holy Name Church came to a highly successful conclusion last weekend, November 18.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Charles Rigdon, the parish's first attempt at a family dinner, held on Sunday afternoon, was well attended, and climaxed the Festival program.

The Spotlighters, young people's group of the Church, served refreshments and put on two floor shows nightly. Rosemary Janowski and Don Lebeck starred in a cast which danced through versions of the Charleston and other fads of several decades ago. Ruth Doyle handled the vocals.

THE TEN Guilds of the Altar Society reported brisk business being done at the booth counters loaded with gifts, baked goods, toys and jewelry.

Other attractions were the PTA Fish Pond, the Snack Bar, Olde Photo Shoppe, Users' Club games, and children's movies.

The Rev. Richard T. Parrish, new assistant Pastor, expressed the appreciation of the Pastor, the Rev. David J. Duncan, the Advisory Committee, and himself for the support Birmingham gave to the project.

Duane Tibbitts, Jr., was general chairman of the Festival.
